Inspired on the novel "Dracula" by Bram Stoker

Author's Notes:

This new fan-fiction I wrote it based on the cinematographic version of Dracula that was directed by Francis Ford Coppola. Some ones would want to kill me for write a Fan-fiction with clop and gore together. But to read this pages, it can see very deep that aside of the violent and erotic events, the characters form part of a macabre story where love defeat death just like in Coppola's film. The story turns around a world where sex and violence form part of the daily culture of course that is my way of see the world. What also inspired me to write this was my attraction for My Little Pony's characters. I always have fantasies such erotic as perverse and macabre because I suffer certain paraphilia. My love for these ponies is too much big that's why I show some of those dreams in this book. I always have macabre thoughts what give me this capability of be a master of hentai and gore. I don't care what the people says about me because I believe tan only god can judge me and no human been has the power of judge another one. I have the freedom of express myself without care what they say and that's why I'll keep confessing my twisted fantasies and macabre thoughts through my works. The artists and genius always have to live in a world kept away from reality to show the great talent they have.

"Blood is thicker than vine"

Chapter 1

It was a wonderful day in Equestria and Rainbow Dash was contemplating with great delight that beautiful morning. She was on the way to see Spitfire now than she had a work to do. Arriving to Cloudsdale, Rainbow came into Spitfire's office where they started to chat.

- It glads me to see you came.

- Spitfire. ¿What you need from me this time?

- Look. Outsides of Ponyville, crossing the Everfree forest, There's a castle where the owner wants to rent an apartment in Ponyville.

- Another Pegasus cannot do that?

Spitfire sighed for 1 moment and she responded:

- Derry Hooves was sent for that work. But when she came back, her condition wasn't stable.

- What did happen to her?

- I don't know. The only thing I know is she was sent to a madhouse. It seems she must pass through something tremendous in that castle to drag her crazy so much. She was found in the streets eating bugs and fecal material from other ponies. The officers who arrested her were attack by Derpy and she bit them in the neck. Even she began to talk about her master would come on way to here.

- Fuck! - Said Rainbow impacted.

- Yes. It's a true disgrace.

- Well. I can sure you if I go, I'm not going to end crazy like her.

- I hope so. ¿Do you accept the job then?

Rainbow decided to accept that mission and after go out from Cloudsdale, She returned to Ponyville to communicate the notice to Rarity. Rainbow was over a cloud when Rarity found her.

- Hi, Rainbow ¿How it was? - Said the unicorn happy to see her.

- Rarity, I need to talk to you about something.

- What happen?

- I don't know how this ay this, but I'm afraid I'll go out for a couple of days.

- Where you'll go?

- I'm afraid to see a new costumer.

- Rainbow ¿What did happen to our commitment?
- Rarity, You know that is still on foot.
- When you will back?
- I don't know. But I can sure you will be soon. I promise it.

Rainbow and her cloud had descended. Rainbow got close to Rarity and she gave her a sweet goodbye kiss in her lips.

Chapter 2

Was getting dark and Rainbow passed through the Everfree forest in a carriage with others ponies.

- Where are you going to? - Asked 1 of them to Rainbow.
- To the castle that it founds to north.
- You should not go there. - Another passenger said.
- What do you mean?
- That place is cursed.
- Really? - Rainbow said laughing like what he heard was a joke.
- Take this. - The previous passenger said offering a peculiar amulet.

Rainbow didn't doubt to accept the stranger's gift. The car stopped and Rainbow took down to the ground. Before her tightly the castle was to a few kilometers. The car had disappeared in the dark and Rainbow ventured into the murky night.

When getting to the castle, Rainbow stopped in front of a great gate. She gave some taps to the gate and it opened only. Rainbow entered into the deep of that castle and she was in a great living room full of candles, pictures, books and several relics and came across the owner of the castle. It was a blond she-pegasus with a pink mane and big sweet eyes.

- Welcome to my humble home, Rainbow. My name is Fluttershy. - The she-pegasus said.
- Thanks.
- I was about to dine. Would you like to join me? - Fluttershy with a sweet voice said.
- Certainly. I am hungry.

Both the pegasuses were heading for a great table with enough space for 24 invited guests. At the table, Rainbow was eating a delicious cake of apples recently prepared. Fluttershy filled Rainbow's glass with wine.

- Aren't you going to drink? - Rainbow asked.
- No, thanks. I never drink wine. I keep it for my guests.
- Do you know about Derpy? - Rainbow asked.
- Yes. What I do not manage to understand is what happened to her.
- I heard that it was when she'd get to this castle.
- I always treat her gently.

- I have no doubt about it.

Rainbow was cutting a piece of bread while she was talking. The knife that she had slip to her right away and Rainbow cut a hoof. Rainbow dropped the knife and bread leaving them at the table and she noticed how the blood came out jetting from her injury. Fluttershy beheld the red liquid that came out from that injury and she began to approach slowly. But next she deviated her look toward the amulet that hung from Rainbow's neck and she started to move back. She saw that some drops of blood splashed on the bread and Fluttershy decided to take it. She offered a handkerchief to Rainbow at that moment. While Rainbow covered her injury with the handkerchief, Fluttershy gave some bites to the bread where the blood stains were found. She was eating up the bread and Rainbow didn't notice. What called her attention was a peculiar picture where it looked like Fluttershy was the one who was painted. In the picture, she wore a cape, was sitting on an elegant chair. What called her attention was that a white rabbit was under the chair and Fluttershy had some brilliant red eyes and some canine teeth. But Fluttershy could not be that one because she wasn't looking that way.

- Fluttershy, it's you the one belonging to the painting? - Rainbow asked doubtful.

- That painting belonged to an ancestor mine. You see, I'm originate from a noble family. Fluttershy is the last name of our family tree. That painting is a memory from passed epochs.

- It's something shadowy, but I believe that it's very artistic. - Rainbow Said.

- Yes. By the way, how is going with the residence I had requested? - Fluttershy Said.

- Yeah. I have the permissions so you sign. - Rainbow said and she took out some papers that she brought along.

Fluttershy took the papers and a pen that Rainbow offered her. She started to signatures the documents of the residence that was going to grant her. When finishing to sign, she saw in the table a photo of Rarity that Rainbow had brought along with all her things. She took the photo to see her in detail and Rarity was seemed like a pony who Fluttershy had known a long time ago. As if she was an ancient acquaintance's alive image.

- She is Rarity. - Rainbow Responded.

- She is beautiful. - Fluttershy Said

- Yes. We are engaged. We will get married when I return. Are you married?

- I was engaged once. Centuries ago in a manner of speaking. But a terrible tragedy happened.

- Fluttershy with a sad tone said and almost it could notice a tear spilling from her right eye.

- Well. I think that I am going to sleep. - Rainbow said being already finished her dinner.

She took the papers and Fluttershy escorted her to her bedroom.

Chapter 3

Rarity was in her room seated in front of her typewriter. She wrote a letter for Rainbow and she didn't stop to type at no time. She decided to take a break when finishing and go out to come across her friend from childhood, Applejack. She found herself working at the farm as usual. Rarity didn't doubt to intervene now that she needed to be with somebody.

- Hey, Applejack.
- What brings you here? Rarity.
- It's just I need to be with somebody.
- Rainbow didn't come back yet, Right?
- I'm afraid she didn't.
- Let's go inside the granary.

Both ponies filtered into the granary and sat together in an elegant sofa that Applejack had in store at the granary.

- Are you worry about Rainbow?
- No. Is just I can't believe that she have to leave just when the day of our wedding comes closer.
- Don't worry for that. But for curiosity, does Rainbow make love to you every while?
- Shouldn't you ask me that? - Rarity said laughing.
- C'mon. We are friends, remember? You don't need to get ashamed.
- Yes, but is something very personal.
- Don't worry. Rainbow is not here and perhaps you need to vent your feelings.

Applejack was looking to Rarity deeply to her eyes and was touching her hoof. She was coming closer toward her with the intention of kissing her. Rarity was quietly hypnotized by Applejack's deep look and she didn't hesitate to lean her lips against hers. Both ponies savored their tongues exchanging saliva and hugging each other. They looked to their eyes of exciting way demonstrating a lustful desire that they felt one toward the other one. The ponies felt a deep excitation with the desire of having one toward the other one and kept on kissing with passion savoring their humid oral orifices of every one driveling over his lips. Applejack kept on kissing Rarity and casually began to pass her hoof for Rarity's soft and tender body until when descending; she began to touch softly her beautiful companion's genitalia. Rarity got carried away for ecstasy and felt little by little how the ecstasy scattered for all her body making her mane bristle and Applejack played around with the greatest pleasure her companion's intimate parts. Rarity laid down on the sofa and Applejack look at her with passion letting off some words.

- You know you are my best friend, don't you?
- Yes. Applejack and you know that.
- Then I'm sure you will enjoy it to see the good friend I am.

Applejack kissed Rarity's neck and got her tongue through that neck till descends. Her tongue went by Rarity's chest and descended to her belly. She made tickles with her tongue and kept on stepping down to get to her friendly follower's sexual intimate parts.

Rarity felt a dreadful tickling sensation in her vagina provoked by Applejack's tongue. Applejack was supporting Rarity's buttocks in order that she did not fall down and with her other hoof, Applejack touched her own vaginal lips softly since she also was becoming excited when licking and drinking the exquisite nectar of the genitalia of the beautiful Rarity. Both ponies came down from the sofa and Rarity herself lowed in 4 paws allowing that the beautiful Applejack went on with the oral activity.

Applejack leaned her face against the rear guard of Rarity and kept on savoring the humid genitalia of that beautiful unicorn that offered herself voluntarily to her girlfriend. Rarity's vagina became in an exquisite humid source of pleasure and Applejack dried her tongue through Rarity's anus. She licked it with passion and spat leaving the anal orifice completely humid. Applejack kept on making sure that be the most humid possible and got it. Unfortunately for the fillies, Applejack didn't have penis to penetrate it, as soon as first she started by going inserting her hoof's tip in Rarity's asshole. Little by little she went inserting her hoof in Rarity's anus until one half of her arm was quietly placed inside Rarity's asshole. Rarity enjoyed with joy how Applejack was fucking her by her asshole using one half of his arm and they kept on that way for a few minutes.

Rarity's vagina continued to be still humid, so to make the game more perverted; Applejack threw Rarity into a mud puddle that got dirty Rarity's mane making her see more dirty and ardent from the point of view of a depraved one. Applejack took out a dildo that she had hide between her things at the granary and with it she started to fidget with Rarity's vagina. She penetrated Rarity with the plastic penis of plastic and Rarity joyed that beautiful moment.

Applejack utmost her hoof in the penetration, touching softly Rarity's vaginal lips and with the dildo, she tickled it. Rarity was burning like never and Applejack introduced the dildo in her vagina again. Applejack also wanted action and for that she lowed and put the other end of the dildo into the inside of her vagina. Rarity got up on Applejack and both ponies started to rock and to enjoy the act. It seemed like both ponies were penetrating themselves each other.

That act lasted for awhile, but Rarity didn't want to finish. She moved out of the way on Applejack, threw the toy penis elsewhere and lowed since she wanted to savor Applejack's genitalia.

- Wait a moment. - Applejack stopped her.
- What's up? - Rarity asked.
- Let's go out side.
- But they can uncover us.

- Of course no. At this time there's no one around. C'mon.

Both ponies came out of the granary confided and leant back against a tree's trunk.

Both ponies kissed again outside of the granary and hugged each other again. It was Rarity's turn to give Applejack back the oral pleasure. She licked her neck and went down her tongue passing it from the chest to the belly and kept on stepping down to get to the crotch.

Rarity licked the nipples of the female horse that she had close to the genitalia and she would have delighted that nursing would have gotten out to be able to savor it. But even so, she kept on sucking those mammary glands for a while and next her tongue went down to Applejack's vaginal lips. She began to suck and lick Applejack's genitalia with a lot of pleasure and what got through her mind was: "Mmmmmm, Yummy!"

Applejack put her arms backing up her head backward and smiled enjoying the oral activity generated by her beautiful companion. Rarity maintained the legs of Applejack separated and kept on licking Applejack's vagina trying to penetrate it with her tongue. After several attempts, she managed to insert her tongue inside that humid and juicy vagina. Applejack's clitoris was on fire like a fire alarm and Applejack moaned with joy to feel Rarity's humid tongue inside her vagina. She was content that Rarity gave her back the penetration that had made to her inside the granary. Applejack stood up and turned. She lowed getting on all fours exhibiting her asshole to Rarity's face. She was delighted when seeing the anal orifice and the vaginal lips opened like a mouth expecting a sweet kiss. Rarity placed her left hoof on Applejack's vagina and contemplated that humid mouth that seemed to be saying: "Kiss me, beautiful, kiss me". Rarity with a lot of joy and pleasure, kissed Applejack's vagina as it were a mouth. She kissed it with great pleasure and delight putting her tongue into the provinces of that succulent vagina with the desire of drink the corporal fluids. She licked with great pleasure that she could feel the inside heat of that member and sucked with pleasure the juices that were going out squeezed. It was like sucking an exquisite cut lemon to take out the juice from it.

Rarity positioned above Applejack and with joy, put her tongue into Applejack's anus while she maintained the vaginal lips opened with her hoofs. Applejack breathed very agitated and sticked out her tongue when feeling Rarity's humid tongue doing her the anal penetration. Her clitoris was close to explode because Rarity maintained at the air exposedly and already it was too much.

Applejack got up just like Rarity. Rarity embraced her companion and she licked her face in the meantime with her hoof, rubbed Applejack's genitalia until all that she had inside came out. Applejack did not want to end up fast, so she turned and gave another kiss to Rarity.

Applejack lowed and placed her mouth against Rarity's vagina, preparing it for another round. Rarity accepted with pleasure the challenge of a second suck in her vagina. For some reason, Rarity had not finished still ever since they came out of the granary. It liked that to Applejack since she wanted to keep on savoring Rarity's vaginal juices.

Rarity threw herself at the lawn and Applejack kept on savoring that juicy limb that had not gotten free yet. Rarity was breathing very agitated for ecstasy and started to moan. Applejack supported Rarity's legs in order that they did not close and keeps on enjoying that delicious nectar.

Both ponies moved on to a new pose. They placed one above the other and they kept on licking their intimate parts trying from winning their juicy corporal fluid. They were enjoying it at the touch.

These playful fillies had a good time with pleasure licking their humid and juicy genitalia, drooling to the member that they had in front of their lips. Each of these ponies became excited more and more and more when tickled their clitoris with their tongues and spat to humidify plus the vagina.

The ponies got lost in a deep ecstasy that drove them away more and more. The one thing that Applejack considered inside her mind was: "This will prove that I am best friend".

She considered that because since little girls, Applejack was willing to make just any thing to be the best friend that Rarity would have had. Her lesbian activity with her seemed her an excellent grade way to demonstrate her no matter the limits. Applejack moved out on Rarity, turned, Rarity laded down and Applejack positioned herself on getting ready this time for the final act.

Rarity's vagina rubbed itself against the one belonging to Applejack. Both genitalia seemed to be kissing each other now that the vaginal lips were rubbing one against the other. Experience was very celestial for both ponies that joined their lips one more time. Now their mouths and vaginas were kissing and eating up among themselves even to get damp. The mouths of the ponies drooled with pleasure and passion spitting inside the mouth of each one driveling over their oral orifices.

Their genitalia were reacting in the same way when got damp. Rarity and Applejack could feel like the corporal fluid of both, were getting wet their vaginal lips as if they were drooling to be filled with saliva. But this time the ones that were drooling to each other were their genitalia. Both clitorises were touching and now it could be felt that it was almost done.

Both already had predicted the ending of their amusing activity, so Rarity moved out of the way on Applejack and crossed their legs, allowing that their vaginal lips kept on kissing and caressing while they kept on excited. Both did not notice than their faithful pets were present for the great ending. But it didn't matter because Applejack and Rarity were having fun like never. Both moaned from pleasing and it was a beautiful experience feel the humid genitalia of the other one and clitorises tickling among themselves to increase the excitation of the other one. Both were about to arrive to the end. They felt that they were about to explode and they rubbed faster among themselves to finish. The ecstasy came to its breaking point at the end.

- Oooooohhh, Applejack! I cumming! I cumming! - Rarity yelled.

- Yes! Me too! Oooooohhhhhhhh! Fuck! - Applejack yelled.

The 2 fillies gave a fortress shout and liberated all the accumulated vaginal fluids. They came out shooting and the crotches of these ponies were completely humid and wet.

Rarity dropped herself to the floor exhaust and tired. Applejack came closer and gave her a kiss in her lips to dial the ending of the sexual activity. Rarity accepted with great pleasure her beautiful companion's kiss which was clear that both ponies already had something intimate between them. They felt exhausted and tired that they laid down together at the lawn embraced trying from recovering air. Applejack noticed that Rarity had a face of worry and even that she didn't want to ruin the moment; she dared to ask what it was.

- Something happens? Rarity

- The truth is I feel something shamed.

- Why?

- I don't know if it's right what we have just done. I mean..... I was reserved for Rainbow.
- Don't worry for that. Besides we'll be always good friends, right?
- I guess so. - Rarity said getting positive.
- Seriously you are beautiful. Rainbow will gonna marry with a nice pony.
- Do you really believe I'm good enough for her? Applejack
- If you have just demonstrated it to me. What we did accept it as an unmarried mare's goodbye gift. - Applejack said smiling and she gave her 1 more kiss.

The 2 fillies already were satisfied and content from being united. They returned to the inside of the granary, they laid down on a comfortable hay mattress, they hugged each other and fell together into a deep sleep since now that was the most beautiful day that these 2 girlfriends ever had.

Chapter 4

It was by night at the castle where Rainbow Dash was resting after having traveled. She could not wait to return with the beautiful Rarity to at last getting married. Rainbow was printing in her room's bed being afraid that Fluttershy would hide something. The motive of it is because she feels that she is besieging her and observing each motion. Rainbow felt that she was a prisoner instead of an invited guest. When she closed her eyes to sleep, listened a voice in solitude: "Rainbow ". The voice repeated her name every while. Rainbow opened her eyes and looked everywhere wondering where that voice was coming from.

- Rainbow. Get laid with us. Come to my arms. – The murky voice said.

Rainbow got laid again in her comfortable bed and all of a sudden felt something below the savannahs. In front of Rainbow emerged from darkness a pony of grayish color with some yellow eyes, sharp-pointed ears and with black cape. Rainbow saw that both sides, 2 equal ponies. The one in front was getting closer slowly. Rainbow got up wondering who these ponies were. But they got close to Rainbow and one of them kissed Rainbow on her lips. Rainbow accepted the kiss and another one of the disclaimed ponies brought near to Rainbow and began to caress her passionately. The third pony from the front began to kiss Rainbow on her neck and to touch it with her tongue. Rainbow believed that she was dreaming and left herself carry away for pleasure leaving the 3 ponies caress her and kiss her with passion. Rainbow laided down, while her 3 new mates were seduced her. One of the ponies saw the amulet that Rainbow brought and snatch it away from her while Rainbow was absent-minded. The pony from above began to lick Rainbow's chest and put down her tongue to the belly. The rest of the ponies kept on kissing Rainbow on her lips and one of them lowed to lick her chest. Rainbow was starting to enter heat and more when the pony that made it to arrive down first, began to tickle Rainbow in the clitoris using her tongue. One of the 3 fillies offered to allow Rainbow kiss her neck and caress her with the tongue. Rainbow Dash with greatest pleasure kept that duty. She felt something ashamed because she was engaged with Rarity and the idea of getting laid with another pony before marriage was wrong, but Rainbow got carried away for pleasure and she was trusting that Rarity would never going to inform herself. She got her tongue through that mare's belly and this one sat on Rainbow's face. Rainbow Dash with pleasure began to savor the vagina of the pony that she had on. A delight was for her kissing those vaginal lips and drinking the juice that was going out. The others 2 ponies stuck at their task of pleasuring Rainbow. The first one kept on touching softly Rainbow's clitoris with her tongue and the second, kissed her and licked her chest. But the following thing that happened was that the pony from below, bit Rainbow Dash's vaginal lips softly and they started to bleed. The other pony gave softly bites at Rainbow's belly and blood began to sprout. Rainbow was so absent-minded by the pleasure that could not feel the bribes. The pony that she had on, turned toward below Rainbow without taking her genitalia off from the mouth of her Pegasus and they went on with the act. The second pony kissed tenderly the right arm of Rainbow and she bit it softly. Others 2, were licking Rainbow's vagina and they gave more soft bites making that Rainbow Dash's genitalia bled more and more and more. Rainbow Dash's vagina was bleeding a lot and the red liquid was mixed with the corporal fluids originating from Rainbow's genitalia. The ponies 3 licked with pleasure the vagina covered with blood of the Pegasus without losing one single drop. The blood mixed with the vaginal juices had an exquisite taste that drove crazy the 3 fillies. Rainbow didn't realize since she were very busy licking and sucking the genitalia that were in her mouth. All of a sudden the door opened violently and the 3 ponies got away from Rainbow terrified. Who came into the room was Fluttershy with an angry stare. The 3 ponies were so frightened that they got against the wall.

- How dare you to touch her? – Fluttershy yelled with anger.
- Sorry, master. – One of the mares said.
- You know this Pegasus is mine, mine only!
- But you had never loved before.

To hear these words from one of the 3 ponies, Fluttershy lowered the tone and responded.

- That is not true. I did love once and son, I will love again.

Rainbow Dash felt the savannahs from her bed wet and sticky. She realized at last that her body was bleeding. She had injuries in the neck, the belly, the arm and in the vagina. She turned her look toward to the ponies that brought near themselves to Fluttershy kneeled as wanting to ask for pity.

- Did you bring something for us?
- Of course, my dear ones.

Fluttershy took out something that she brought along. It was a baby pony that was crying and shouting. She delivered to the ponies and Rainbow got impacted to see what happened next. The 3 ponies began to bite the baby tearing and pulling out his little tiny arm and legs. Also they opened his belly and removed all the visors from within. In some seconds, the little innocent baby felt and the 3 ponies with pleasure devoured their entrails and drank the poor creature's blood. Rainbow Dash's face filled up of fear and terror. She directed her sight to Fluttershy and she also was seeing her. Fluttershy had a pale face with a few blood spotting on it. Her eyes had turned black and dark without any trail of life. Fluttershy smiled at Rainbow Dash with a macabre and sinister stare. It results that Fluttershy was actually a dark and lifeless being. A creature whose stare represents Death itself. Rainbow didn't contain it anymore and responded with a dreadful spine-chilling scream of terror that was listened to for the entire entire castle. The scream was replaced by a macabre and demonic smile. Fluttershy was who at the end let off a malignant laugh that covered up the darkness of the night.

Chapter 5

2 weeks passed and Rarity was worry because Rainbow has not come back home. She felt that something bad had happened to her and felt a deep fear inside. She was sitting on a wellspring and Applejack came by seeing her dear girlfriend over there. She noticed that something was wrong and she got closer to discover what it was.

- Rarity, what's going on?
- Rainbow didn't come back and I'm worry.
- She must be fine. You don't have to get worry.
- But 2 weeks had pass already and I feel that something bad happened to her.
- Hey, be cool. Rainbow will be fine. I sure you that.
- Do you think so?
- Of course. Remember that she promised come back to be with you. A promise like that cannot be broken.

Rarity hugged Applejack feeling safe, but deep inside she knew that the worse was to come. Rarity was right, now that Rainbow Dash was confined in a dungeon, while Fluttershy had leave her country taking a journey on boat. Not in a normal way. Rather she had been packed in a crate and was travelling between the packings, on the way toward Ponyville.

The ship had gotten to Ponyville 2 hours before dawn, which gave Fluttershy enough time to get her work in motion. In Sweet Apple Acres, Rarity had decided to spend the night with Applejack because she didn't wish to be alone. In the meantime both ponies slept together in the same bed, Applejack opened her eyes when listening to a strange voice in the dark. Applejack got up and came out to discover what voice was. She was outside of her house in the cold night and she could see nothing at all to her around. But listened the voice again and directed her look to the shrubs. She could see something in the dark that called her attention. A new face with some red eyes that shone in the dark like lanterns.

- Come with me, Applejack. – The mysterious creature called.

Applejack was hypnotized by those red eyes that she had in view. It was too hallucinating to be real. Rarity woke up when noticed that Applejack was not in bed with her. Rarity got up and left the house worried for her friend. Rarity noticed that Applejack was walking toward the forest and she decided to follow her. Applejack went into the dark forest unknowingly that Rarity was following her. Because for the dark it was, Rarity could not see Applejack very well and she loses her in the dark for a moment. Rarity was alone in the darkness without signs of Applejack. Span her look toward all sides to see if there was any sign. There was nothing and it was too dark to see something. All of a sudden, a chiming was listened to. It was the voice of Applejack that seemed to be exhaling. Rarity followed the sound of the voice, worrying that something wrong was happening to her. She followed that voice in the dark driving her to the end of the road. Rarity got through as far as where the voice was. She found Applejack, but she had discovered something else. Applejack was not alone, but with the company of a stranger's being.

Applejack was in the company of what it seemed to be a Pegasus. But that creature was not any Pegasus. Her mane was uncombed, had big bat wings, big sharp-pointed ears, red eyes like a ripe apple and sharp fangs that were being nailed in Applejack's neck. She did not resist the creature's bite. She seemed to be enjoying it and she was touching herself in her private parts. The creature with tenderly and softness caressed Applejack. Both fillies were on the verge of a lustful spectacle. Applejack left the creature touches her soft chest. Applejack got carried away for the pleasure of the touch to feel those hoofs touching her chest softly. Applejack dropped by to look at her mysterious lover's eyes. They kissed each other with passion and tenderness. Rarity could not believe what her eyes saw and she could not do anything else that get occult in a tree to observe the scene.

Applejack got down at the lawn and allowed her new mistress place on her ready for the action. Applejack received a kiss in her neck that next kept on by her chest. She felt a humid tongue touching softly her neck that went descending for her chest to the belly. She felt the humid tongue of that pony close to her private parts. She looked at that pony to her eyes with depth.

- Are you enjoying it? – The creature asked.

- It feels wonderful. – Applejack replied.

- Then this will like you more.

The winged pony separated Applejack's legs and she began to kiss her vaginal lips. She touched softly Applejack's clitoris with her humid tongue provoking a tickling sensation that ran through the spinal column making Applejack started to moan from pleasing. That pony savored with great pleasure that vagina that manifested a delicious taste and little by little the juice got out from the inside. To Applejack's new mate news liked it too much when the corporal fluids started to run along her tongue and she didn't want to stop. She kept on sucking Applejack's vagina trying to drink the whole juice that was flowing. Applejack was passing it brilliant, because she shouted that she should not stop and kept on moaning in the dark of the night. The juice kept on going out and it was wonderful nectar than that Pegasus wanted to keep enjoying that beautiful night. Applejack felt how she penetrated her with her tongue, then that Pegasus wanted to introduce her tongue very deep inside to try the taste of the vaginal inside. The sensation was really heavenly to Applejack and she desired deep inside that passion would not finish.

When finishing, the Pegasus was placed on Applejack and with her open legs, she began to rub her genitalia against the one belonging to Applejack. Both ponies enjoyed that beautiful act. The unknown pony Applejack's vaginal juices leaking inside her genitalia. Both ponies were humid and continued kissing their vaginal lips until the ecstasy was too much and they gave a fortress shout indicating that they came to their climax. Applejack released all her being and felt yielded at the lawn and her companion also did the same thing. But she wanted something more.

Once Applejack became exhausted, the pony by her side positioned herself on her one more time. It wasn't for another sexual thing. This time she set her fangs in Applejack's loin. The red and clean blood was going out slipping leaving red threads and that pony with pleasure drank the cool blood that came out from that injury. Applejack didn't fight back now that the sexual act had snatched her energies. She did nothing more than deliver her itself and a tear came out from her right eye. Applejack felt unconscious since the exsanguination and sex were too much for her and she had become exhausted. That pony already drank the whole blood that she needed and noticed that there was someone else hiding between the trees. She saw it was Rarity who was present and looked at her straight to her eyes. Rarity realized that she had been found out. Rarity kept on without moving a muscle and looked at the eyes of that creature.

- Don't look at me. - The murky pony said and disappeared into the darkness.

Rarity ran towards Applejack to help her to get up. Applejack was very weak and almost could stand up. Rarity helped her to get up and took her back way home.

- What it was what happened there? Applejack. – Rarity said.

- I don't know. I can't remember.

- What do you mean?

- I don't know. I Heard a voice that was calling me and I felt someone touching me and.....
I don't' know what else.

- Don't you know that you were with somebody?

- I can't remember. It was dark and I couldn't see her face. I think that she was seducing me and I don't know what else.

- Calm down. I will take you home. You are very weak and you need to rest. It almost dawn.

Chapter 6

Already it was daylight and in Equestria's Mental Institute, a shout of laugh and glory could be listened. It was Derpy who had been locked-up right after returning to Ponyville. She had discovered that the ship had arrived and she began to shout: "She's here. The master is here. You have at last arrived ". She kept on shouting the same thing over and over that it could be hear trough all the madhouse's corridors. Only 1 pony that had arrived recently, listened the shouts and she was Twilight Sparkle. A pony student who had arrived from Canterlot to work at her new investigation with the inmates. She, to hear Derpy's shouts, decided to go to talk with her to discover her restless nesses. Twilight arrived to the cell where Derpy was lodged. The guard opened the door and allowed Twilight to enter. Derpy was lying down in the ground and at last the shrieks had ceased. Twilight got close to Derpy slowly and began to talk.

- Hi, Derpy. My name is Twilight and I just came to talk with you.

- You are from outside, right? – Derpy asked.

- Yes, that's right. Look, I Heard that since you came back, well... I wanted to know if you have seen something unusual in your visit outside of Ponyville.

- Something like a wild beast?

- I don't know. You tell me.

- Tell me, you just came to ask me that?

- Well, I had the desires to know the pony that came back from Ponyville's frontiers.

- I see. Then I guess we'll have a good time alone if the guards do not disturb us - Derpy said with a seducing voice.

Derpy opened her legs exhibiting her cunt to Twilight. It was known that Derpy thought that Twilight had come with intentions of seduce Derpy. She wouldn't resist for anything in the world. It was clear that Derpy would be willing to deliver her body to any filly. But that was not what Twilight had come to look for in spite of what attractive that Derpy looked and her genitalia seemed enough juicy to savor.

- Sorry, Derpy. But I'm not here to have sex with you.

- Are you sure? May you would want to have fun a Little with me. I'm very good sucking pussies.

- I appreciate it you, but no. Just tell me 1 thing. What did you mean when you said "The master is here"?

There was a moment of silence and then Derpy answered:

- You don't know her. She's here because of me. She said she would give me the eternal life if I'm faithful to her. I was faithful to her for too much longer and I know she will grant me the eternal life just as she promised me. That's why she is here.

- The eternal life you say? And how is suppose she will give it to you?

Derpy didn't answer. Instead of that, she leaped ferociously over Twilight trying from biting her neck. Twilight shouted asking for help and the guards fortunately heard her shouting. They entered the room quickly and they held Derpy taking her away from Twilight. 1 of the guards helped Twilight to get standing while the rest of the guards were holding Derpy that she was moving savagely trying from getting free. Twilight scrubbed her neck for the attempt of bite and Derpy began to shout: "Blood is life. Blood is life. Master!!!! Let me go!!! I'm not crazy. I am just a pony that listen her master ".

Chapter 7

The day was cloudy and all the Ponyville's inhabitants were going out to work, selling, shopping among other things that they used to do daily. Fluttershy was between the inhabitants that she had at last gotten to Ponyville. She walked with relish contemplating everything to her around and she was looking how the ponies walked happily on the streets doing their typical economic activities. Fluttershy suddenly saw something between the multitudes that called her attention. It was Rarity. She had also decided to go out in search of more cloth for her costume design. Rarity could not stop thinking about last night and she felt enough worried about Applejack. She felt a stranger witness plenty similar to the one belonging to that night. She was feeling terrified from seeing if the creature that was with Applejack now found itself present just at that moment. She put her look in a window near to see the reflection. She only saw all the ponies' reflection around. There were no signs of the creature and Rarity felt somewhat quiet. When she set apart her sight of the window, from the nowhere, Fluttershy's face was in front of hers.

- I sorry. It wasn't my intention scare you. - Fluttershy said kindly.

- No. It's alright. It was my fault.

- It's just I'm new in Ponyville and I need that some pony takes me to a tour.

- Are you lost?

- Well..... I..... could say I don't know where to go.

- Do you have any name?

- I'm Fluttershy.

- I'm Rarity. If you want to, you can join me if you don't have any place to go.

- I'm still an unknown one, but I you want me to make you company, its okay.

Fluttershy went with Rarity to the Boutique where Rarity was a famous designer of dresses. On the way into the store, it could be seen that there were present Applejack, Applebloom and Big Macintosh.

- How do you feel? Applejack.

- I feel a Little weird, but I think I'm fine.

- What do you mean with "A little weird"?

- Well, is that I woke up this morning something disorientated, but I think is nothing.

When Applejack took notice of Fluttershy, she noticed something very weird on her look, like if they would have already seen in the past.

-Ahh, my apologies. She is Fluttershy. A guess I met a little time ago.

All the Apples said hello courteously to Flutterbat y Applejack especially with the next.

- Hi. Excuse, but..... have we didn't see before?

- I doubt it a lot.
- Sure? Because it seems like we have seen before in some place.
- I don't think so. I'm newly arrived.

Applejack noticed in Fluttershy's eyes certain curiosity. In that stare she looked like if were the same one belonging to that pony that was seducing her last night. This made Applejack begin to wonder if the last night experience wasn't a dream. But something real and the pony that she had just greet is the same one that was with her last night in that erotic experience that kept still blurred in Applejack's mind. But she was sure that she knew that stare in Fluttershy's eyes.

- Well. Is nice to see that you 2 know each other. Now I think that I should go back to my businesses.

- Wait, Rarity. – Applebloom interrupted.

- Yes, tell me.

-Big Mac and I decided to go by to see Sweetie Bell. Big wants to join us to the park.

- I'm afraid that Sweetie Bell walked away just when I went out. We went out together and we took separated paths. She told me if I see you, she waits you in the park.

- Well, thanks. C'mon, Big Mac.

The little pony and her brother walked through the door, meantime Applejack and Fluttershy spent time inside the Boutique with Rarity. Applejack gave a yawn and Fluttershy cheered up in asking to her.

- Are you sleepy?
- It's just I didn't have a very good night. I'm still sleepy.
- A nightmare, perhaps?
- Possibly. Rarity, I think I better leave.
- It's alright. No problem.

Applejack went out through the door while Fluttershy kept looking at the surroundings of the Boutique. Fluttershy saw a photo that called her attention. Fluttershy came herself closer to look closely into the picture and she took it. She saw in the photo Rarity along with Rainbow Dash. Rarity noticed that Fluttershy was looking at the photo, so she let off some words.

- That is Rainbow Dash. She is my fiancée.
- And where she is now?
- She is in a bussiness trip, but she left 2 weeks ago. I received no notification about her and the truth is that I am too worried.

Fluttershy put a malicious smile because it was clear that she knew very well that Rainbow would not return now that she had her locked-up at the castle. She placed the photo back in the piece of furniture where it was. She walked straight to Rarity and she got behind her.

- What are you doing?
- Working in a new dress.
- Do you want me to help you?
- Is not necessary. I can do it by myself.
- C'mon. Just one lil' help.

Fluttershy extended her arms and laid her hoofs on the ones belonging to Rarity that were supporting an enormous fine cloth in a sewing machine. She helped her by far beware of the cloth. Fluttershy started to sniff Rarity's hair and the aroma was really sweet. Rarity started to feel a little nervous and right after some minutes, the cloth was done already.

- Well, the cloth now is ready. Thanks.

Rarity had given turn her head while she talked and she saw directly to Fluttershy's eyes. Both ponies looked at themselves deeply with an intense stare. Rarity felt that her heart was beating quickly and Fluttershy felt the same thing. They could not take their eyes away from themselves and Fluttershy came closer slowly and gave to Rarity a tender kiss in her lips.

Fluttershy closed her eyes and savored Rarity's sweet lips. Rarity felt a little disconcerted, but she accepted the kiss with pleasure. Until she decided to move away quickly and to put her look toward the corner. Fluttershy started to get worried because she thought that Rarity had reacted badly before the kiss.

- I sorry, did I make you feel embarrassing?
- No, of course no. Is just..... Sorry, I.....
- I think I should better leave.
- No, Fluttershy. I'm not angry with you if that is what you think.
- No, is okay. Besides, I don't wanna cause troubles.

Fluttershy went away through the door and Rarity froze captivated by the kiss. She said nothing. She only remained standing and quiet for a moment.

Chapter 8

The night had come and at the castle that used to be Fluttershy's home, Rainbow Dash found shut in a dungeon where the 3 ponies that were with her, were biting her, were savoring her blood and took their time to savor Rainbow's genitalia. It was a lustful hell and Rainbow could not bear it. She couldn't stop thinking about Rarity. She could not stop to think if Fluttershy now was in Ponyville, then the life of her loved one was in danger. Rainbow needed to find a way to escaping from that land of nightmares where the night doesn't have end. When the 3 beautiful bloodroots ponies finished their bloody sexual games with Rainbow, she saw a long nail that was lying in the ground. Rainbow tried to catch it up stretching her straight foot. Rainbow did all her effort and almost her hoof managed to touch the nail, Rainbow stretched more and more until hoof was able to reach the nail. She dragged it along by ground to her and then she took it. She put the nail into her left-hand shackle's latch, moved with a lot of care to see if she could open it. Fortunately she made it. Rainbow used the nail making the same thing with the rest of the shackles that were supporting the rest of her extremities. Rainbow at last was quietly free and she came closer toward the door. Took a look in the latch to make sure that there would be nobody out. The living room was completely empty without any guard's trails. Rainbow put the nail into the door's latch and began to move it with a lot of skillful action. The door opened alone in an instant. Rainbow took the chance to try to escape. She should have made it soon since her 3 companions' bites had left several injuries that the blood dripped from Rainbow's body and they left an easy trail to detect. The most painful thing was the fact that the blood also came from Rainbow's vagina due to the bites that they provoked during oral sex and left one red lines from Rainbow's thighs to get to her feet. That made easy leave footprints remained in the ground and Rainbow knew that she could not go out by the main entrance. She walked on all the corridors of the castle to find an open window and Rainbow decided that was the only exit that was left at her disposal. Rainbow jumped through that window and opened her wings before getting to the vacuum. Rainbow tried to fly farther away possible from that infernal place, but the injuries in her body looked so grave that clearly those fillies had given drained approximately the whole body's blood. Rainbow made it to go away, but she could not resist the pain and her body remained too weak. Rainbow couldn't help it anymore and felt all at once in the ground. Rainbow looked up and saw what it seemed to be, a treehouse. If there was somebody living there, then perhaps help Rainbow to heal her injuries. Rainbow got up with the lack of strength that she had left and walked slowly to get the door. She knocked and tried to keep standing abiding by the thresholds of the door. Somebody opened and who lived in that treehouse, was not nobody but Zecora.

- Hey, are you alright? – The zebra asked worry to see Rainbow badly wounded.

- Please, I need some help.

Rainbow felt weak in a blackout and Zecora took her between her arms. Took her to inside and closed the door. She couldn't leave her badly wounded in that manner and Zecora agreed to help the poor Rainbow Dash.

Rainbow Dash knew that Fluttershy would provoke a harsh misfortune in Ponyville and from that she wasn't going to get wrong. Because Fluttershy already had her eyes on her first victim. Applejack was charging a barrel with apples to the inside of the granary and all of a sudden she began to feel somewhat weak. She leant upon hay trying from taking a small respite. All of a sudden she heard a sound in the dark. She didn't notice that outside something was descending from the evening darkness. Applejack saw a figure with big wings of bat and sharp-pointed ears descending from above the sky. Applejack recognized that figure and there was no doubt that she was that same creature that had seduced her the previous night. At last she had returned and Applejack didn't know what to do accurately. She saw the dark eyes of that dark being of the night and felt like hypnotized. The creature came closer slowly toward her and Applejack could not take her eyes away from that creature's stare. The creature approached slowly toward Applejack and leant upon her. The creature began to lick Applejack's neck and slide her tongue to her chest and then to her belly. It looked at Applejack to ask the next thing.

- Tell me, do you want me to suck your pussy again?

- Ohhhh, yes. C'mon. Do it - Applejack answered with much pleasure.

Her night lover did what Applejack told her and descended her head to Applejack's crotch and began to touch softly Applejack's vaginal lips with her tongue. The tickling sensation was something that Applejack began enjoy. Her night lover pushed her tongue into the deep of Applejack's vagina to savor her inside. That way she kept on and Applejack gave forth big wailings of pleasing. The creature already could feel the taste of the cunt getting damp. Applejack stood up right after some minutes and exhibited her exquisite pussy to her night lover's face.

To the creature was doing water her mouth with desires of keeping on savoring that pussy that had a really delicious taste hard to not desire. Applejack moved her ass with desires of provoking her companion and the creature showed her a delicious apple that she had with. She put it in her mouth and gave it a bite while she smiled at Applejack.

Applejack saw how her companion was biting the apple with relish and that made her turn on more than usual. The creature nailed her 2 sharp fangs into the apple and pulled out one piece slowly. She chewed with a lot of slowness and next swallowed it. She leant upon the ground and opened her legs showing to Applejack her cunt. The creature took the apple and introduced it tightly in her pussy. She didn't introduce the whole entire apple, only the bitten part and the apple quietly obstructed in the creature's pussy as it were a plug.

She began to move the encrusted apple and Applejack contemplated how the vaginal juices were going out gushing from the cunt of that beautiful and dark pony. Applejack started to drivel over with the desire of savoring the apple's juice mixed up with the vaginal juice that sprang from those sweet genitals. The creature looked directly at Applejack's big and green eyes and did facial expressions in her face as indicating what she desired and provoked that Applejack began to touch herself already having been humid.

- Do you want me? – The creature asked with a smile in her face.

- Of course I do.

- Then come to give it a bite.

Applejack came closer slowly and leant back positioning her face toward the encrusted apple. She came closer and gave it a bite. Applejack began to eat up the encrusted apple in her companion's vagina and savored with pleasure a mixture of juicy applesauce and vaginal juices. The creature laid her hoofs on Applejack's head as indicating her that she keeps on eating that delicacy and that don't stop for anything. Applejack kept on and her lover started to give forth wailings of pleasing that lashed against the evening darkness. Several minutes passed and nothing was left of the apple. Applejack finished off to devour it and for final surprise, the creature came to the climax and began to ejaculate in Applejack's mouth. One last lukewarm and exquisite drink to finalize the mouthful that Applejack had enjoyed.

Applejack's mouth was all humid and drooled, which indicated that she had enjoyed the snack with pleasure. She came closer on her lover and they closed their activity with a sweet kiss. After Applejack stood up, the creature itself positioned behind her and whispered her.

- Now, beautiful, is my turn to savor you.

Applejack let her lover took her gently and nailed her fangs into her neck. Applejack felt the breath of the creature in her neck and the sharp fangs nailed in her carotid vein. She didn't resist it for anything at all. Applejack delivered herself with pleasure without putting resistance. Blood was going out flowing from the injury in the neck and the pony enjoyed it with pleasure. Applejack did nothing to defend herself. She allowed that her lover keep on savoring her blood and apparently Applejack enjoyed the bite. The creature had finished and let 2 marks at Applejack's neck just like that night. Applejack felt weak in the ground and saw her lover of the night spreading her wings and disappearing into the darkness of the night. Applejack was already feeling exhausted and couldn't keep her eyes open. Darkness came all of a sudden leading Applejack to a deep dream after another night of lust.

Chapter 9

Applejack opened her eyes and saw that a light was blinding her and she began to rub her eyes to grow accustomed in the light. When she made it, noticed that she was in a bed and had a pajamas wearing than without a doubt was hers. When looking up, she took no time to realize that the sun had gone out, it was daylight already and she was right in her own room.

Applejack began to feel very confused, and then felt a headache and rubbed herself smoothly by her scalp. Applejack also felt a sort of neck ache and she began to scrub it. She felt with her hoof's tip that she had 2 little wounds in her neck. She got out of bed and walked directly to the mirror to see those marks. Once Applejack stopped in front of the mirror, she could not believe what she saw. It was still in front of the mirror, but her reflection wasn't present. Applejack got scared at the beginning and began to think if what happened last night was a nightmare or something real that could mean the ending of her life. Applejack needed answers and went down the stairs to see if the rest of her family was present. There was Granny Smith in her chair; Big Macintosh was sit very pensive and Applebloom lying down in the floor playing with some marbles. Judging by her facial features, it was clear that something was wrong. Applejack went down and showed up in front of them. The 3 saw Applejack going down stairs and stood up.

- Applejack. You woke up already. - Granny Smith said.

- Yes.... something happens?

- Last night I found you dropped sleeping in the granary and I took you to your room. - Big Mac said.

- Really? Big Mac

- We're worry about you. Something unusual happened last night? - Granny Smith asked.

- Well...ahhhh..... I can't remember very well.

- Look, I also used to do crazy things when I had your age and also I was going to get laid with any mare that interbedded me, but tell me if everything is alright. - Granny Smith said.

- I don't know truly, but my head hurts a lot. I think I don't feel very good. - Applejack said rubbing her head.

- Do you want me to bring you a glass of water? – Applebloom said.

- No, Applebloom. I think I will go to lean on bed for a while.

Applejack went upstairs while she kept rubbing her head and meanwhile the others from the family remained astonished, began to doubt if something wasn't right.

- I don't understand what is going on with her now. - Big Mac said.

- May she's sick. We should call a doctor. – Applebloom said.

- Yeap. - Big Mac said.

- Well, I will make that call. I think seriously that something isn't right here. - Granny Smith said.

Granny Smith decided to pick up the phone and communicate with Ponyville's Hospital. She sent the call and didn't take long to somebody answer. In the hospital, Rainbow Dash was found herself in 1 of the rooms. She opened her eyes and delayed a few seconds to recover the sight.

- It's good to see you wake up. – A voice said.

- Who is there? – Rainbow asked.

- I'm Twilight Sparkle. I come from Canterlot.

- Where I am?

- In Ponyville's Hospital.

- You said Ponyville? – Rainbow said getting up all at once.

- Easy, relax. You are lucky to be here. You suffered grave injuries.

- How is that I'd get here?

- Zecora called to emergencies. She stopped the bleeding and then called the paramedics and they brought you here. Tell me, what happened to you?

- Well ... I.....

Nurse Redheart came in to interrupt.

- Twilight, a call from the Apples.

- What's the matter?

- It seems like Applejack is sick.

- Did you say "Applejack"? This is grave. – Rainbow said.

- What are you talking about? – Twilight said directing to Rainbow Dash.

- Applejack is in troubles. Listen, I want you to look for Rarity and tell her I had come back.

- Alright, don't worry. When I return, you will explain me everything.

- But get hurry. I need to get out of here soon as possible.

- Don't worry. Nurse, give some medications to Rainbow to be in conditions to leave today.

- Well, I think I have some medications that may help.

- Good. I want that Rainbow be in good conditions now when I return.

She turned her look to Rainbow and said:

- Don't worry. Everything will be fine.

- I hope so. – Rainbow said with a worried voice.

Twilight went away from the hospital and went on the way to Sweet Apple Acres. It didn't take a long time in order to she arrived and Granny Smith heard a knock in the door. She opened the door and Twilight was present.

- Hi, Granny Smith. I came to see how Applejack is.

- I'm afraid that she doesn't feel good at all. Come in and I will explain it to you.

Twilight came with pleasure into the house carrying along with her a suitcase. While they began their conversation, they didn't notice that Applejack heard a voice that called her name:

- Applejack. Applejack. Come to me. Come to my arms. My beautiful Applejack, come to my arms.

Applejack could not resist the voice that she listened and she decided to stand up leaving the savannahs aside. Applejack walked down stairs hypnotized without notice that Twilight and the Apples were in the living room chatting. Applejack walked straight to the door and came outside. Applejack marched into the cold and dark night to find out where that voice was coming from. She didn't indicate that that creature that had visited her previously, was hung up in a tree. When seeing Applejack leave the house, she could see Applejack's back and her intimate parts from a distance. It provoked that her mouth prepared water. Went down from the tree and flew fast straight to Applejack. Before Applejack realized, her lover was now lay on her and began to suck her pussy with her mouth humid. Applejack felt the tongue of her well know night lover, filtering into her cunt.

That creature's mouth was really humid and all that dribble made Applejack went back to increase an ecstasy that she hadn't feel before since her first encounter with this being. The creature was enjoying with pleasure the taste of Applejack's cunt and kept on licking and sucking leaving Applejack's vagina all drooled and with the vaginal juice still gushing. Meanwhile the Apples gave explanations detailed to Twilight about Applejack's status.

- You'll see, Twilight. I'm afraid that my sister didn't come out from her room in all day. - Applebloom said with a tone of worrying.

- Are you saying she was sleeping all the time?

- And is worse. - Big Mac said. - I was taking her temperature and I'm afraid that she has high fever. Besides, I was taking food to her, but she hasn't eaten anything either.

- That is very strange. I would have to go to see her.

- Sure. - Granny Smith said and everyone stood up directing to the stairs.

When arriving up, they saw that the door of Applejack's room was open. On the way in, they indicated that the bed was empty and that there were no signs of Applejack anywhere.

- Where is she? - Twilight said worried and from the nowhere, a loudly shout was heard.

- It comes from the granary! - Big Macintosh said alarmed.

They all came downstairs running hurried and went out through the door that was still open. They noticed that the door was open which indicated that Applejack was out. They ran at full speed to get to the granary. They arrived and they saw Applejack laid down in the ground and a stranger shape in the darkness on her.

The black figure could not be seen clearly and before could be identified; the shade extended its wings and raced out from the granary by the window that was positioned all above. The ponies looked up, but the figure already had disappeared in the darkness. Applejack was lying abandoned in the ground with a grave injury in her neck and was indenting big blood jets.

Twilight ran alarmed to her and also the rest of the Apples. Twilight took a look in the injury and there was no doubt that it was about something grave.

- We have to take her inside urgently. – Twilight said.

Big Macintosh was very strong, so he rose Applejack up with all his strength and charged her in his shoulder. They entered home faster than they could and they leant Applejack in the sofa. Twilight opened her suitcase and brought out several medicine instruments. Among them, there were a container with a crank and 2 pipes in several extremes that had a needle at the end.

- She is fine? - Applebloom said worried.

- There's no time. She had lost too much blood. I need to make her a transfusion.

- I will do it. - Big Mac said.

- Extend your arm.

- I will give to my last drop of blood to save her. - Big Mac said extending his arm.

- You are brave, Big Mac.

Twilight took 1 of the pipes and nailed the tip into Big Mac's arm. She did the same thing with the other tube taking Applejack's arm. She began to move the crank and Big Mac's blood went taking direction from the tube to get Applejack's arm. While the other tube was going drawing Applejack's blood taking road direct toward the container. Several minutes passed and Applebloom hugged Granny Smith with tears gushing from her eyes. Granny Smith could not stop of biting her left-hoof since her dear granddaughter's life worried her. It didn't pass much time for Applejack to go back to recover pulse. The container was full of blood and Twilight took away from the 2 brothers the needles that they had nailed down in their arms. Twilight wrapped up Applejack's arm with a bandage and did the same thing with Big Mac.

- Listen, Big Mac. I suggest you to drink much apple juice to recover all the blood you had lost.

- She will be alright? - Granny Smith said worried.

- Now she's sleeping. We must let her rest. There is graver that we must deal with. – Twilight said.

The Apples didn't manage to understand what Twilight was saying and seeing than Twilight equipped her things and she already was going away, they decided to follow her and to stop her to obtain answers.

- Wait, Twilight. Do you know what is happening to my sister? – Applebloom said.

- I'm sorry to inform you that possibly there's not possibility that Applejack get save, but I think come back tomorrow to get sure that would not be too late.

- Late for what? Please, Twilight. Tell me that my little girl will be saved. - Granny Smith said almost exploiting in weeping.

Twilight sighed and there were only some minutes of silence.

- What is happening to Applejack has a lot to do with it that was with her inside the granary. May you didn't noticed it, but Applejack had 2 marks in her neck. Actually it's a bite.

- Are you saying that something drank her blood and flew off just like that? It's insane! - Big Mac said almost disconcerted.

- I know it's insane, but believe me that we are facing something that no earth pony can understand. We're facing a force beyond what you can imagine. What it was in the granary has a supernatural strength and lives in the darkness. Goes out at night to get feed from the blood of any living creature until let them die exsanguinated. What it is out there goes out to the streets without been noticed as nothing more but as a common and ordinary pony, but in fact is a monster.

Chapter 10

Since the first encounter that Rarity had with Fluttershy, they couldn't stop to see them each other constantly. It worried Rarity too much because she continued to be engaged with Rainbow Dash. But Rarity couldn't deny that as they kept on looking each other, it began to raise some feeling to Fluttershy. They used to meet every while in Donut's Joe to take a drink. Next they went for a ride through the park. Even every time that obscured, Fluttershy went with Rarity to the Boutique to pass a good time together. In that same day before get dark, Rarity prepared a sweet cake for her companion, but the candies to decorate were so loud of the shelf that Rarity was trying to catch them up getting up in a chair. She had unfortunately slipped and all the spices fell on her. Fluttershy was waiting at the living room, but when hearing the noises, got over to the kitchen where was Rarity knocked down in the ground and tried to get herself clean with a towel.

- Rarity. Are you alright?

- Yes, I had just a little accident. It's nothing serious.

Fluttershy had noticed that she had cream stains and candy in her face. So Fluttershy got closer toward Rarity and once Boeig by her side, she began to lick her right cheek.

Rarity felt a little inconvenienced at the beginning, but when seeing that Fluttershy wanted to clean her face with her tongue, she started to feel very flattered and she was blushing. What Fluttershy was doing was a true tenderness. Rarity turned by and looked at Fluttershy's beautiful eyes. They looked at themselves with affection and passion. Rarity could not bear that long silence and she got close to give a kiss to Fluttershy in her lips. Fluttershy accepted with pleasure that tender and sweet kiss. They hugged each other and allowed that their humid lips give that warm sweet affection to themselves. It was obvious the feelings that Rarity felt for Fluttershy. There could have been an affectionate moment of passion, because they 2 were alone. But Fluttershy saw that the sun was hiding and she decided to draw away quickly from Rarity.

- Fluttershy, what's the matter? - Rarity said a little disconcerted.

- Sorry, I have to go.

- Now?

- Sorry, It's just I don't like to walk around Ponyville alone in the night.

- Then see you tomorrow. Good night.

Rarity got close to Fluttershy and gave her a tender goodbye kiss. Fluttershy walked through the door and Rarity leant on her sofa with the hoof in her chest. Rarity could not believe what she was feeling. She began forget about Rainbow, but she didn't have the minor idea than that day she was with Fluttershy, was going to be the last. Rarity passed along time lay in the sofa and could don't stop thinking about Fluttershy. Even when she fell asleep that same night in which Twilight had been going to see the Apples, Rarity had a humid dream in where Fluttershy was in bed with her and they both kissed and caressed themselves. Fluttershy had crouched in the dream and began to kiss Rarity on her clitoris making tickles with her tongue. The dream was so erotic that Rarity began to touch softly her own intimate parts while she was sleeping. Rarity could don't stop of touch herself slept. Her dream and feelings to Fluttershy now were dominating her. In the dream, Fluttershy could not stop of suck Rarity's cunt. The taste was quite delicious and succulent. Rarity twisted herself of pleasure. After Fluttershy drank the delicious Rarity's vaginal juice, Fluttershy tilted to one side and Rarity kept on with giving back blowjob. Rarity had started to repeat the same process with Fluttershy. Exploring her intimate parts using her mouth. The dream was really ardent and Rarity was drooling on the pillow. So much in bed like in the dream, Rarity touched herself that same way and the desire was really uncontrollable. Rarity kept on masturbating with all her strength while she sucked Fluttershy's cunt in her dream and drank the delicious juice that was going out gushing from her vagina. Both mares roared from pleasing and Fluttershy had ejaculated on Rarity's mouth. Rarity had also ejaculated of so much masturbating. When the dream ended and Rarity began to open her eyes, the sun had gone out already. After a long night of erotic fantasy in the world of the dreams, Rarity woke up with the wet bed. In the beginning she felt confused because she thought that she thought it was about urine. But Rarity remembered the dream she had and realized that she was masturbating while she was sleeping. The bed was humid cuz Rarity had ejaculated on the mattress and savannahs. Rarity didn't want to deny what she felt for Fluttershy and she had thought to say it to her this same afternoon. This time Rarity wanted to make sure to have Fluttershy in bed. She wanted to get sure that wet dream becomes a real. But she counted out what was going to happen. When finishing getting up and having breakfast, Rarity heard that somebody was knocking the door. Rarity attended and saw that who was in front of the entrance was Twilight.

- Hi, Rarity.

- What have you come to?

- I came from part of Rainbow Dash.

Rarity put an impressed face, cuz she could not believe than at last after of so much, she listen news about Rainbow.

- How she is?

- She is in the hospital. I will take you with her.

Rarity thrilled went with Twilight to the hospital. Rarity approximately was forgetting about Rainbow and luck that Twilight appeared on time. Rarity started to wonder if Rainbow was all right and what did happened to her. When they got to the hospital, they entered into the living room where Rainbow was. When Rarity saw Rainbow at last, she could not believe what she was seeing. She ran towards her and gave her a fortress hug. Rainbow reacted in the same way and she received the hug with the same affection. Both ponies at last were together again.

- Rainbow, I was so worried about you?

- My love. It glad me to hear your voice again.

- How are you? – Twilight said.

- I'm much better.

- Good. I think it'll be better we leave.

The 3 ponies went out of the hospital and at the exit, Twilight decided to leave her 2 friends.

- Excuse me, girls. But I'm afraid I must leave you alone. Applejack needs me.

- Applejack is okay? – Rainbow asked.

- That is what I'm going to find out.

Twilight walked away leaving the couple at they own.

-Rarity, I need we do something now to continue with our lives.

- Rainbow Dash, I need to know where you have been all this time.

- I think explain you everything, but I need do something first.

Rainbow took Rarity's hoofs and looked at her eyes to ask her the next thing:

- Rarity, do you want to marry me?

Rarity didn't know what to say. She felt nervous and excited at the same time.

- Yes, Rainbow Dash. Of course I will marry you. - Rarity said happy and smiling.

Both fillies gave themselves a tender hug, but Rarity had not forgotten about Fluttershy and that made she started to wonder what she should do now. Rarity desired Fluttershy, but she deep inside still kept on loving Rainbow Dash. Rarity didn't know what to do now.

Twilight had arrived to Sweet Apple Acres to see Applejack's state. She was found reclining on her bed taking a rest. She was still awake and was in care of Big Macintosh. Twilight entered into the room.

- How do you feel now? Applejack.

- A little better.

- Let me take you the temperature.

Twilight got closer and placed her hoof on Applejack's forehead. The temperature seemed to be a little high; even it seemed to be signs of recuperation.

- I will bring you a glass of water.

Twilight walked toward the piece of furniture where there were a bottle and a glass. Twilight didn't matter to serve a certain amount of water. She filled the glass and took it to Applejack. She took the glass and began to sip until empty the glass. Twilight took the empty glass and she went to lead it to the piece of furniture.

- Big Mac. - Applejack said looking at Big Macintosh.

- Yes, little sister.

- I'm something cold. Can you give me a hug?

- Yeap. - Big Mac said smiling now that he could not deny something so sweet to his dear sister.

He came closer to give her a hug, but Applejack brutally grabbed Big Mac and tried to bite him in the neck. By chance Twilight took Big Mac and got him away from Applejack. Twilight brought out what it seemed to be a crucifix and placed it to Applejack in the forehead. Applejack yelled of pain and next fell unconscious in the bed. Granny Smith and Applebloom heard the yelling and went upstairs to find out quickly what it was. When they entered into the room alarmed, Twilight was examining Applejack. Twilight looked at the unconscious filly's denture and noticed that she had 2 fangs.

- Oh, god. It's not possible. - Twilight said impacted.

- What is going on? - Granny Smith asked alarmed.

- I'm afraid it has already begun. - Twilight said staring at the Apples.

Twilight had returned to her residence and between all the books that she had, picked 1 that may would help her to discover her fears even what she was thinking to find, hope that be a mistake. She placed her book on the table and began to look over pages. Twilight wanted to be wrong on what she felt that was happening, but her hunch didn't lie to her. At the end she obtained what she looked for in the page 756.

- Here it is. It cannot be. "Since the beginning, there were 6 fillies with the 6 elements of harmony under their power. Between them, there was the one who is now known as "Flutterbat". A pony that possessed the element of Kindness, but her powers was corrupted after a battle against the beings of darkness in times of war. It is said that Flutterbat had made a pact with the forces of darkness to defeat her enemies. Flutterbat passed from being a Pegasus pony to a dark creature. She managed to defeat her enemies, but there was a high price for her power. She had to feed, so she cut the heads of her prisoners and then drank their blood. Even she made the same thing with her bunny pet. Flutterbat's thirst was uncontrollable, so she took her dearest pet and mutilates it using a sharp knife. It is said that Fluttershy weep for what she did to her loved one, but the hunger was too much to fight it and Flutterbat had started to devour her pet with her sharp teeth. She had taken out the whole blood to kill the tiny little animal. It is said that bat's wings grew on Flutterbat, her ears became sharp-pointed and her eyes became blood-red. Flutterbat had finished devoured her little bunny and let the remains thrown in the ground. Flutterbat had started to lick the blood that was on the floor and to suck the bunny's entrails that were lying flat in the ground. Her element of harmony had abandoned her and it didn't pass time for all Equestria discovered in what this pony had become. Flutterbat now had become a creature of darkness that is always occulting from daylight and feeding from the blood of living beings". Then I'm not wrong. Flutterbat is here. The ship's was not an accident. Now it makes sense. Sweet Celestia. This is worse than what I imagined.

Twilight could not believe what she had discovered. A creature of darkness now was present in Ponyville, which meant that the village ponies ran a great danger, especially Applejack who had been seduced and bitten. Rarity also was going to become a new victim to have been witness to the first encounter and she would take no time to discover it. Rarity now had gotten ready for the wedding, but she knew than Fluttershy was still waiting for her in Donut's Joe, so the one thing that she could do was write her a letter. Winona who was Applejack's noble accompanying canine had the grace to take the note in her mouth. The female dog ran through Ponyville to get to Donut's Joe. There inside, Fluttershy was seated alone at a table waiting until Rarity arrived. Fluttershy was feeling worried about why Rarity didn't appear. It had passed 60 minutes; it was strange to her because they always got met at the entrance. Fluttershy saw Winona in front of hers and when seeing that she brought a letter, Fluttershy took it and Winona went away rapidly. Fluttershy opened the letter and began to read:

"Dear Fluttershy, since our encounter I was spending it of wonder with you. I cannot deny that we were having fun lately and you managed to cheer up my temper because I was worried a long time for my fiancée. But I'm sorry to tell you that our encounter now has just drawn to an end. Rainbow Dash returned again to my life and besides she requested me to marry her. I know that in my heart's bottom I still love Rainbow Dash and I cannot refuse her offer. I'm been afraid that there's the possibility that we never go back to meet again. It passed it very well with you, Fluttershy. But I am afraid that this is the good-bye. Love, Rarity."

After Fluttershy finished read the letter, tears began to sprout from her eyes. Fluttershy felt that her heart was breaking. She had returned to his occult place and Fluttershy rolled about in a deep crying that she could not bear. Fluttershy gave a fortress shout of despair that provoked that winds happened out of nowhere. It was by night and blew the strong wind with every brutality that the windows of the houses opened of an unexpected form. Twilight noticed the strong winds and knew that it wasn't about something normal.

- Yes, then is true. Flutterbat. The creature I was chasing all these years. At last she is here present! - Twilight said standing on foot.

The hour of marriage came closer and all the Apples were invited including Twilight. They were afraid of letting Applejack at home alone. So Twilight decided to call 2 real guards in order that they take care of Applejack while every pony was in Rarity and Rainbow Dash wedding. The guards were present patrolling the door and Twilight gave them a simple instruction while she was laughing victorious for what she had discovered.

- Soldiers, it will be better you watch our dear friend. Because if you don't take care of her very well, she will become in a Nightmare's whore. - Twilight said while she was laughing and taking 1 of the guards like if she were going to walk away with him.

The upset guard pushed Twilight telling her to move away and Twilight didn't stop without leave the things clear.

- Do you think that this will be a simple task? You are dealing with something that you know not. Now Applejack is the concubine of darkness.

Twilight went away leaving the guards patrolling, while they beckoned saying that Twilight had a mental problem. But guards didn't have the minor idea about what they were going to face neither. Twilight didn't delay a lot in coming to the wedding and Rainbow Dash was in the altar with a beautiful white dress waiting for her bride-to-be. The Apples, The Wonderbolts and Rarity's parents were present to witness this beautiful moment. Finally it didn't passed a lot in order that Rarity showed up. The music of the wedding march began to sound and Rarity came in lifting a beautiful white dress and was charging with hers a bunch of flowers. Rarity really looked beautiful and behind they were the Cutie Mark Crusaders supporting the bride's dress and left a trail of rose petals. Rarity got on the altar and Rainbow raised the veil that covered her face.

- Dear, brothers. We are here to join these 2 maresin holy marriage. If any pony has some reason of why these 2 ponies should not get marry, speak now or forever remain in silence. – The priest was saying. - Rainbow Dash, do you accept Rarity as you wife to love her, take care of here and be faithful to her until dead do you apart?

- I do. - Rainbow replied smiling.

- And Rarity, do you accept Rainbow Dash as your wife to love her, take care of her and be faithful to her until death do you apart?

- I do. - Rarity said with pleasure.

- And with the powers that had been given to me by the laws of Equestria, now I pronounce you wife and wife. Now you can kiss the bride.

Rainbow Dash touched Rarity's cheek and came closer and both ponies sealed their vows with a sweet and tender humid kiss. All the ponies' witnesses congratulated the happy couple with dreadful applause. It looked like this was going to be a happy ending, but regrettably it didn't go that way. Fluttershy could not accept feeling rejected and abandoned. She flew to Applejack's residence with some red eyes that shone as the flames of hell. The guards listened to a sound that came from the darkness. One of them gave a step ahead to find out what it was and out from the nowhere, something came on him and gave him a dreadful bite in the neck. The guard tried to get free, but that thing gave him an enough deep bite and pulled out a neck's piece of flesh making that the blood went out gushing forth in abundance and bubbling. The other guard tried to take one of his weapons that he carried about in his armour. But the entity was too fast and also came back on him putting an end to his life. Both soldiers were lying dead in the ground and the creature rose up from the ground to find itself in front of the window of Applejack's room. She was writhing in bed, which marked that she had perceived her presence when arriving.

- These ponies believed that they could protect you from my power. How naive they had been to try to face me. She escaped from my castle and now wants to get Rarity away from my side. Well now I will separate you from your loved ones. I sentence you to wander by night like a creature of darkness feeding from the living's blood.

The creature showed a monstrous look in the dark and some sharp fangs that reflected her fierce nature. The creature stormed in through the window breaking glass. She rushed over Applejack in bed and began to bite her in the neck brusquely. Applejack didn't bear it and let her dark lover seduce her one more time. The dark creature separated Applejack's legs and got closer to put her tongue into the inside of Applejack's vagina to savor the sweet vaginal juice one more time.

The creature licked Applejack's vagina with a lot of fierceness and Applejack felt some brief tickles in her clitoris to being caressed by the creature's humid tongue. When the vaginal juice began to sprout, the dark creature gave one loudly bite burying her sharp fangs in Applejack's genitalia. Applejack gave a loudly scream in pain and then began to gush forth big blood jets that blended in with the corporal fluids from Applejack's cunt. Her pussy was very humid and also kept bleeding like if Applejack was having her period. The creature with a lot of pleasure drank the mixture savoring the delicious juice and vaginal blood mixed up like an irresistible cocktail. At the end Applejack could not bear the pain and her ecstasy, so the end she had a bloody orgasm on her lover's mouth. But it hadn't finished yet. The creature now should have claimed what was hers and after kissing Applejack leaving the taste of juice and blood in her mouth, she nailed her teeth the creature violently into Applejack's neck. She gave her a very hard bite that provoked a dreadful bleeding. The creature began to suction the blood with all her strength snatching the spark of life away from Applejack. Applejack began to get weak and she could not bear it. It was too much for her already. Applejack fainted, but the creature didn't stop. She still wanted more and continued sucking the whole blood until Applejack's veins got approximately dry and her pulse began to descend. The beats of her heart were getting weak and her breath began to diminish. The creature finished off from snatching her all that was inside of Applejack's circulatory system. She was moving no longer, neither breathed.

The creature had finished her job. No longer were felt the pulse, neither the Applejack's heartbeats. Her breath of life had abandoned her body and the only thing that was remained was a lifeless body. The creature stopped from biting Applejack and cleaned her mouth with her left-hoof. The body of Applejack stayed abandoned in bed and the creature flew far away by the window disappearing in the darkness.

Chapter 11

Already it was daylight and what ended with a beautiful wedding, now began with a terrible tragedy. After the wedding, the Apples along with Twilight had returned to Sweet Apple Acres and when they discovered the bodies of the guards, they knew that something was wrong. They had been going to see Applejack at her room and they found her there lying in bed. She didn't seem awake, neither nap, and Twilight had even taken her pulse. The news was taken to each member of the Apple family and they all were going to meet at Ponyville's Hospital in hope that Applejack continued to be alive. When they all had gotten to the hospital, the doctor already had made the report and regrettably got information that Applejack no longer breathed, she didn't have pulse and they didn't hear her heartbeats either. The report was that the whole blood from Applejack's body had disappeared, what indicated that she had bled to death and the worst part for every pony was that the doctor announced that Applejack would never go back to wake up again. The Apples could not believe what they were hearing and tears began to sprout from their eyes. Applebloom embraced Granny Smith with the heart broken and she tried to console her little granddaughter.

- There. Don't cry, Applebloom.

- Is not fair. I want my sister to come back.

- She will never come back, Applebloom. Now she's in a better place.

Big Macintosh turned his look to the window because he didn't want anybody to see him crying being a guy so strong. Big Mac could not contain the crying and allowed it out. The moment was too much for the Apples and all over when they had to assist to the funeral. The members of the family could not imagine how it's possible that a young filly dies that way. After the funeral, they all gathered in the farm where at the granary they put an altar together for Applejack. They placed a lot of her photos about the good moments that she had lived. There were a lot of her photos when she was a little girl, went to school, the meetings with her relatives and Granny Smith added an Applejack's photos when she was baby. Those memories made that Granny Smith remembered when Applejack was a very tender and playful little girl. She didn't matter that Applejack was now a filly that sometimes went looking for sex. She continued to be her granddaughter and loved her with all her heart. Baby Applejack's photos made that Granny Smith began to cry, since for her it was extremely painful than the granddaughter she has rose up from baby had died being still a young girl. Little Applebloom left at the altar a rag doll that Applejack had given her as a present since baby. Applebloom also brought along a photo when she was a baby and Applejack, even being girl, was supporting her in her arms. The little filly could not stop crying thinking about her older sister that always thought about her security all these years. Her cousin Babs Seed was present too and gave Applebloom a hug to console her from the pain that felt for her dear sister's loss. After hours of sadness and agony, the Apples went away quitting Sweet Apple Acres. Big Mac noticed that Twilight was also present outside of the granary waiting. It called his attention that she hadn't entered to the granary to see the altar, now that Twilight was present in the funeral. Big Macintosh came closer to see the motive of what was doing Twilight waiting out of the granary and Twilight didn't keep her mouth shut when Big Mac was already in front of her.

- I'm really so sorry about Applejack.

- Yo don't have to say it. Now she's resting in peace.

- I'm afraid she doesn't yet.

Big Mac didn't get what Twilight had said.

- How did you say?

- I'm afraid that Applejack's soul is not in peace yet.

- What it means?

- Listen, Big Macintosh. May this will be hard to understand, but I need to unbury her grave.

- Unbury? What for?

- To drive a a stake through her heart and decapitate her.

Big Macintosh put a face of impacted. He could not believe what he was listening and besides that Twilight was able to do something so dreadful to her own friend after the funeral.

- Have you gone insane? Of course I'm not going to unbury her for such thing. - Big Mac said annoyed.

- You have to trust me. Your sister will not rest in peace until we release her soul. We must do it.

Big Macintosh got away from Twilight upset for what he heard and Twilight stayed alone. She knew that something was not going to come out all right and she already began to worry about the well-being of Ponyville. Specially the one belonging to the newly-weds that now were in a private beach to spent their honeymoon. They had received the report about Applejack's Death and it was a blow that they didn't want to allow that ruined their day after the wedding. Both ponies were lying down in bed caressing and kissing to start again the day. They newly married pair did not stop to savor themselves each other. They gave themselves a tender impassioned kiss and they infiltrated their humid tongues in the inside of their mouths savoring the sweet saliva.

- How do you taste, my dear Dash?

- Awesome.

They kept on kissing humidifying their lips and Rainbow began to kiss Rarity on the neck as wanting to tell her that she desired her. Rarity had already an intimate night with Dash last night after the wedding. But Rarity was not feeling good-humored for a second time.

- Sorry, Rainbow. I can't do it.

- Why not? Last night we were enjoying it.

- I know. But is just, I don't say that do it for a second time is wrong, that today I'm don't feeling good. - Rarity said turning her look to the corner.

Rainbow Dash took her cheek and forced Rarity to went back to see her eyes.

- Listen, I also feel bad for Applejack's Death. She was also my girlfriend and seriously it hurts me that she had died. But I don't want to start to lose our intimacy thinking about it.

- I know. But Applejack was my best friend and now that she is gone, I don't have urges of anything.

- I understand. It will be in another moment then.

Rarity moved out on Rainbow and got up walking toward the shower. Rainbow was left alone laid in bed thinking if perhaps there was a way to forget what happened at the castle. By chance Rainbow had enough time to explain Twilight everything while she was in the hospital and now she was worry about her loved Rarity's life now that Applejack had died. But that was only the beginning of what was going to happen 6 hours after the sunset.

Chapter 12

At the next day, Rarity and Rainbow Dash had gone to Sweet Apple Acres to console the Apples for Applejack's loss. Granny Smith was serving the tea and Big Mac was sitting doing nothing. Rarity and Rainbow were sitting on the sofa and it could be seen that the house now was very alone and dark. Without any sign of life if Applejack's Death would have carried the whole joy that it used to be before at the farm. Was much noticeable in that day the Sweet Apple Acres' desolation because it was a cloudy day and the sun now was occult.

- It glad me that you 2 had come here. This place has been very desolated without Applejack. - Granny Smith said serving tea to Rarity in her cup.

- Is the less we could do. - Rarity said and took a sip of tea.

- We sorry not had come to the funeral. It was our honeymoon and we didn't want to miss it. - Rainbow Dash said.

- Is understandable. Is what Applejack have would want for you. It's good pass a good time without think about the bad moments. - Granny Smith said.

- Hey, and Applebloom? - Rainbow Dash said looking around and noticing that Applebloom wasn't present.

- Gone to see her friends. She was all night crying for her sister. It glad me that she be out there with her Friends now to cheer her up a little after yesterdays. - Big Mac said.

- Good, I hope that she tell me how is Sweetie Bell now. After the wedding, I had to request her to remain in Scootalo's house. - Rarity Said.

- Well, I'm sure that the girls should be having a good time to themselves. - Big Macintosh said.

A knock in the door was heard. Granny Smith went to attend and when opening the door, she saw that it was Twilight. She entered of a disconcerting way into the house.

- Hey, where are you going to? Pal. - Granny Smith said confounded.

- I'm sorry, but this is urgent. - Twilight said alarmed.

Twilight went into the living room and she had expression of nerves in her face indicating that something wasn't right.

-Twilight, what are you doing here? – Rarity said.

- I sorry to bother you, but something dreadful happened.

- What is it? – Rainbow asked.

- See it by yourselves.

Twilight threw in the table what seemed to be a newspaper. All the present ponies took a look at the newspaper and they saw something alarming in front page that attracted the attention. Big Macintosh picked the daily newspaper and began to read out what it was in front page.

- "Today at 6:00 AM at Ponyville's public park were found 2 little fillies apparently very wounded. They were described one of them like a little white-colored unicorn with purple grayish mane that had signs of injuries provoked by something cutting and the other one like a Pegasus of orange color with purple mane that apparently was bleeding to death, because the arms, the legs and her little wings had been pulled out".

When listening this, they took no time to discover than the little ponies mentioned in the newspaper were no other than little Sweetie Bell and Scootalo.

- "According to the testimony, the limbless pony was in tears and screaming in pain that called the attention of many making that they were discovered at the park. To being found, the little Pegasus was at a blood puddle already and died road to the hospital".

Rainbow Dash felt awfully impacted when hearing this.

- "The child unicorn who survived told what had happened. According to her declaration, the children had gone out late after midnight to meet with some colts that apparently were 8 years older than they. They had gotten invited to a party to drink alcohol and committing sexual acts that it's supposed that they should not do at their premature age. At the party they had seen a mare in the darkness of the night that called them. The unicorn said that mare was going to give them candy as a present if they went along with her to the deep forest. When it was ask to the child what was that had happened, the little filly burst into crying and didn't want to keep on narrating to tell the terrible event. It was asked to her who was that mysterious pony and the unicorn described it as an orange-colored mare and yellow mane with big bat wings and sharp-pointed ears ".

There had been a great silence in the living room and the last part was what attracted the attention.

- Big Mac, tell me that now you believe what I was telling you. - Twilight said directing to Big Macintosh.

- Are you saying.....? No, that is imposible and even if my sister were still alive, I know her very well. She will never make harm to a little pony. - Big Macintosh replied with disconcerment.

- Applebloom doesn't know about this. Certainly she must be out there looking for her friends.

- Rainbow Dash said.

- Then let's go out to find her. She could be in troubles. – Twilight said.

At that moment a knock in the door was heard. What reprehended was than behind the door was heard a little noise too loud that seemed to be a baby's crying. Twilight opened the door and saw a little pony entering and giving her a hug. Twilight saw the child and notice that it was Applebloom. When seeing her, she noticed that something bad had happened to her, because she was crying a lot and she seemed very scared.

Twilight took Applebloom inside the house and they all stood up when seeing that it was Applebloom. They indicated that she had a very sad look and a spine-chilling expression in her face that worried every pony at the living room. Big Macintosh got close to little Applebloom to find out why she had that expression in her face.

- Applebloom, where had you been? Your gramma and I were so worry about you.

Applebloom didn't answer. She kept on crying and the situation seemed more alarming of usual.

- Please, tell me where you were.

- I was going to look for Scootalo and Sweetie Bell in the house club. I didn't find them and all of a sudden she appeared. She told me. "Applebloom, do you wanna take a walk? And I said "Yes". We went together to the Everfree forest and all of a sudden appeared a filly with bat wings. She held me face down and I tried to get myself free. She didn't want to release me and she bit me in my private parts.

Everyone got surprised to hear the tremendous story and Applebloom continued with her narrative.

- It hurt me a lot and that filly didn't want to release me. I told to her help me, but she didn't want to. Later they laid me down in the ground and she left with the pony that bit me. I remained alone and abandoned in the forest.

Applebloom went on with her crying after finish her story. Big Macintosh hugged her to calm her down. He could not believe than his sister even being a child, were sexually abuse. Big Macintosh wanted to know who the pony that led her to that trap was.

- There, there, Applebloom. Easy, it's over. I'm here. Can you tell me who the pony that did you was?

- I don't know. I don't know her. But when she introduced her to me, she told me she was a friend that just wanted to play.

- Are you talking about the pony that took you with that creature? – Twilight interrupted.

- Yes, because I know her. We all know her and I though she loved me.

- Tell me, Applebloom. Who she was? The pony that took you there, who was? - Big Macintosh said.

- My sister....., APPLEJACK!

Chapter 13

After the sun hid, Twilight and Big Macintosh decided to go to the cemetery to see Applejack's grave. This time Twilight was going to demonstrate Big Macintosh that she didn't lied and that the Applejack he knew was no longer the same. The wolves howled in the dark and the night at the cemetery was quite murky. Both ponies took a chance into the darkness and Twilight carried along a parcel full of elements with stakes, garlic, a shovel and an ax.

-Twilight, what are you taking all this for? - Big Mac asked.

- For protection. This won't be so simple as you think.

- Even like that, I'm still refused to believe that all this if true.

- Well after see the grave, you will change your mind.

- I doubt it a lot, and if Applejack is still inside her grave?

- I hope she be still there, because that will make it easy to us. Its necessary put her soul to rest in peace once and for all.

Finally after roaming a lot the cemetery, they went up to the place where Applejack was resting. But when they got close to the grave, a thing let both ponies shocked. It results than when arriving, the grave had been profaned. The land was removed and the coffin in its inside was empty.

- Now do you believe me?

- Surly someone unburied her and took the body. Sweet Celestia. I hope that it hasn't been a necrophille. I don't wanna imagine my sister's corpse being use like a blow-up doll.

- Then give thanks that it wasn't like that. - A voice said from behind.

Both ponies turned and seen that it was the guard of the cemetery.

- Do you know what happened with the pony that was buried here? - Twilight said to the old guard.

- I'm afraid so. It happened last night. As usual, I was watching the graves and I saw this grave seemed to be moving. The ground was moving by itself and I came closer to see what it was. At the beginning I thought that were earthworms twisting at the ground, but all of a sudden a hoof came out from the ground. I walked in reverse and all of a sudden from inside of the grave, I saw the corpse stepping out onto the surface. It was really horrible. She was all wormed on and ... actually she was a zombie. Thereof was no doubt about it. I stayed away soon as possible and I saw how that zombie went far away after coming out from the grave. It didn't chase me. Simply she left walking slowly limping toward the Everfree forest. During the years that I spent at this cemetery, I had never seen something like that before.

- Had you tell it to anyone? – Twilight asked.

-I told it to the police, but they didn't believe me.

- You did the right thing to tell it to us now that we are here.

- Tell me, Twilight, what do you think that happened to my sister? You brought us to the cemetery for a reason and I wanna know the truth. - Big Mac said.

- I'm afraid that your sister, Applejack had become into an undead. Now she's a vampire pony. A Nosferatu.

- Wait, but what I saw was a zombie. – The guard interrupted.

- For now. But if she is drinking blood from other ponies, then she had changed her form by then. Besides, I think she was who harmed the Crusaders.

- This is insane. I know that my sister would never do that. - Big Mac said pissed.

- Your sister is dead! ACCEPT IT! And if we don't stop this creature, many ponies could be murder.

At that moment a noise was heard in the darkness. It was heard what seemed to be a lullaby something weak coming along with what seemed a crying. The 3 ponies hid behind the biggest gravestones that were near and they snooped to see from where that mysterious sound was coming from. From the darkness they saw a filly very dreadful and her body seemed to be decaying.

It could be notice that the worms had devoured her flesh and even so she kept on moving. She brought along 2 little ponies that were identified as Silver Spoon and Diamond Tiara. She had them tied and dragged them along for the ground. She stopped and the 3 hidden ponies noticed that that dreadful creature had a cutie mark shaped like 3 apple. Then it was sure that creature was Applejack that had gotten up from the grave. The 2 little fillies were twisting in the ground shouting for help. But there was of course nobody that would listen to them. Applejack took Diamond Tiara and after Diamond looked at those horrible eyes that were not showing a sign of life, Applejack gave her a macabre and murky smile.

Diamond Tiara gave a spine-chilling expression when seeing that dreadful face looking at her eyes. Applejack opened really wide her mouth and bit the little pony in the neck. The bite was so hard that blood jets began to sprout and fall in the ground. Diamond Tiara shouted of pain and those ponies that hid behind the gravestones put an impacted spine-chilling expression when seeing that horrible act. Especially Big Mac could not believe what he was seeing. His own sister, who he had loved since children, now was a child killer. Diamond Tiara shouts with all her might until the breath of life began to abandon her body. Applejack had suctioned the whole blood from the body of the little pony and Diamond Tiara shut her eyes. The shouts had drawn to an end and Diamond Tiara felt dead in the ground. A blood puddle had remained in the ground along with the little pony's corpse. Silver Spoon was quite terrorized that it could be noticeable in her look. She thought that she could die and her heart barked with a lot of adrenaline. Applejack began to suffer a physical change after having drunk those liters of blood. Her putrefied skin began to recover its previous form. The whole putrefaction had disappeared and her fur stayed restored again. This time the ears of Applejack became sharp-pointed and enormous bat wings appeared from her back. Even on her denture grew fangs.

The mane had driven itself gruff and the 3 apples in her side that they used to be her cutie mark had turned into the shape of 3 little bats. Applejack had become what Twilight said that she would be converted. A vampire pony condemned to wander about at night drinking the innocent ponies' blood. Once Applejack took her new form, she took Silver Spoon ready to drink her blood. Silver Spoon was very terrified; even she didn't desire to die so horribly. Applejack opened her mouth ready to bite her little victim. Big Macintosh could not bear it more and decided to come out from his hiding-place to confront his sister.

- Applejack! Stop! - Big Mac shouted stopping the creature that used to be his sister.

Applejack stopped and released her victim leaving her in the ground. The guard came out from his hiding-place also and ran toward little Silver Spoon. He took her between his arms and dragged her away from her murderer. Applejack did nothing with regard to this matter to avoid it. She just decided to turn over and see her brother face to face. Big Macintosh could not believe that her deceased sister were present next to him. It was something quite difficult for him.

Applejack didn't take time to recognize her brother. Big Macintosh didn't make anything more than stand still in front of Applejack doing nothing. Applejack decided to come closer slowly to him. Big Mac didn't move back. He kept still without moving a muscle. Applejack knew that he wouldn't run and began to talk to him with a tender and sweet voice.

- Big Mac. My dear brother. Come. Don't be afraid.

Applejack extended her left arm toward him. When he saw her coming closer, he just saw her like the sweet and tender Applejack that he knew. But only there was darkness in her eyes and she didn't look like she be the same Applejack than he knew once. Even so, Big Mac didn't want to deny Applejack's affection since still he kept on loving her.

- C'mon, Big Mac. Don't get scare. Hug me, dear brother. Give to you sister a sweet kiss.

Applejack already stood in front of him. Big Macintosh didn't want to deny the desire of returning to embrace his dear sister. But now having already made it, Applejack got close to Big Mac's neck and opened her mouth to bite it. Twilight came out from her hiding-place the most fast possible and extended her arm showing a cross that she was supporting. Applejack moved back violently frightened by that figure. Twilight walked in front of her with the cross trying to drive her away as soon as possible.

- Twilight, what the fucks are you doing? - Big Mac said.

- She is not your sister, Big Mac! KEEP AWAY! - Twilight shouted looking Big Mac.

Now than Twilight got distracted at that moment, Applejack took the opportunity to throw herself over Twilight snatching the cross that she had. Applejack tried to bite Twilight when showing her sharp fangs. Twilight extended her right arm trying to reach the cross, while with her left arm tried to rein Applejack in. Big Mac stayed thrown in the ground doing nothing more than observes.

- BIG MAC! I NEED YOU TO HELP ME! TAKE A STAKE FROM MY SUITCASE! QUICKLY!

Big Macintosh made a revision between the things than Twilight had in the suitcase and took a stake. His intention was help Twilight, since that the only way of making it, was murdering Applejack. But Big Mac loved too much his sister and could not hurt her. Twilight was able to reach the cross and put it to Applejack in the forehead. Applejack screamed of pain and moved back to the behind. A burn with cross shape remained marked in Applejack's forehead and the smoke came out from the same forehead with a burning smell. Applejack showed an angry stare and opening her enormous wings, jumped rushing at Twilight. But before going up to her, Big Macintosh interbedded on the way over with a stake. Applejack landed on Big Mac. The stake's tip penetrated Applejack's chest. She gave a fortress shout of pain a once that the stake's tip reached her heart. Applejack looked at Big Macintosh with a tender and sad look.

- Brother. - Applejack said with a weak tone.

Big Mac began to look Applejack with sadness and at that moment, Twilight appeared with an ax that she brought in her baggage. Twilight raised the ax and gave a hard blow to Applejack in her neck. Applejack's head got rid from her body and felt rotating in the ground. Blood had gone out all at once for the blow staining Big Mac's face. The sun had gone out at the end and Big Mac contemplated the head of his dear sister that had recovered its original appearance before becoming in the monster that was that night.

Big Mac didn't bear to see the beheaded head of Applejack. He stopped of holding the stake and his sister's headless body felt in the ground. Big Mac kneeled down and didn't remove his sight from Applejack's head. Tears began to sprout from his eyes. Big Mac began to cry and Twilight got close to him. Twilight embraced Big Mac to console him from the pain to have lost the only pony that he really had loved.

- Easy, Big Mac. It's over... - Twilight said with tender voice.

- Why? Why her? Poor Applejack. - Big Mac said while he cried desperately.

- Is not your fault. Calm down yourself. Applejack is now in peace. We released her soul. Now she rests in peace. Don't worry, Big Mac. She's now in a better place.

Chapter 14

Rarity, Rainbow Dash and Twilight Sparkle gathered in a restaurant where the newly married couple listened to Twilight's story about the terrible event that lived along with Big Macintosh that night. It was very comprehensible for Rainbow Dash since at the hospital Rainbow had made good use of the time to tell her experiences at Fluttershy's castle. For Rarity it was something very hard since she also was implicated unknowingly and as she had been witness of the first encounter between Applejack and that pony of darkness, it was almost too difficult since Rarity wanted to believe than what she saw, it had been nothing more than a nightmare. But right after having a long chat with regard to this matter, that it could be a connection between Rainbow's experience, the disease that killed Applejack and even the encounter between Rarity and Fluttershy, it could say than both ponies could finally come to a conclusion almost complete.

- Tell me, Twilight. Applejack did suffer when she died? – Rarity asked.
- I don't think so, but there's no need to be worry about it. I cut her head off, filled her mouth with garlic, Big Mac drove a stake through her heart.....
- TWILIGHT! – Rainbow said interrupting Twilight now that Rarity could not bear hear that.
- The point is that Applejack is in peace now. Tell me, Rainbow, about the terrible encounter with those devil fillies. The experience was somehow traumatizing?
- It could say it was worse. I had luck to keep out of there alive. I would want to believe that what I lived wasn't real.
- The vampire ponies exist, Rainbow. What you saw was evidence of it. Besides the reason of why Applejack became in one is because there's one of them here in Ponyville.
- When I heard about the navigators that were found dead in the ship that arrived no long time ago, that would have something to do? – Rarity asked.
- Possibly. Until where we know, vampire ponies get feed from the blood of other ponies to survive. Some of them seduce the mares mostly to turn them into their slaves. Much the virgin ones as who are not. That means it doesn't matter if Applejack wasn't virgin. She was still chosen for that creature to turn in her sex slave and also to condemn her to drink the blood from living beings turning her into some kind of monster which eyes cannot see the daylight, not even to see the dawn.
- What we should do then if that creature is here? – Rainbow asked.
- We must find her and kill her. It's too dangerous that she be on the loose around.
- And how it's suppose we will find her? She can be anywhere. – Rarity said.
- I know someone who can help us. Rainbow, I'm pretty sure you know Derpy Hooves.
- Yes, she was a Pegasus who went to the residence where I was. I heard when returning, her head was fucked up and they put her away in a madhouse.
- Well it seems like the vampire pony that she met must put her under some kind of spell, but I'm sure that Derpy is the only one who can tell us where to find that pony.

- Are you sure?
- Of course I am. She will tell us. From that there's no doubt about it.
- And if she doesn't? – Rarity asked this time.
- Believe me. I know she will.

Derpy was so fucked up of the mind that Rainbow thought that no way she would talk about the vampire pony's localization and that she even would manage to understand not a single word about the subject during the interrogation. But Rainbow didn't have more option that to trust Twilight since she were worried for his dear Rarity's life. The 3 ponies had finished consumed the food from their dishes and they prepared to go away. Twilight had the grace to pay her friends' account and they went away heading to Equestria's Mental Institute. The 3 decided to take transportation since Rainbow didn't want to get ahead quickly in airs now that her responsibility was being next to Rarity at any time. The journey delayed close to 1 hour and Rarity got to look up skywards watching the beautiful glare of the moon. Rarity couldn't stop thinking about her dear Fluttershy and she began to wonder if she also was implicated in the case because she appeared tightly at the same date where Applejack had her first intimate encounter with the mentioned vampire pony. When Rarity became conscious, she saw that they were in front of the institute already. The 3 mares came down from their transporting car and advanced toward the doors. On the way in, Twilight stopped in front of the main desk to ask for a small appointment with Derpy. A guard escorted the 3 mares to the cell where Derpy was found locked-up. Derpy noticed that she had visitors and she stood up to receive them with pleasure. Derpy stopped in front of the bars and saw her visitors.

- Hi, can I help you with something? - Derpy said with a smile and her same look of viscous eyes.

- I wanted to as if you know where is hidden the lair of your master. – Twilight replied.

- Ahhhh, I see. You wanna find out where she's hiding, but I'm afraid that the master would be nothing easy to get. She's smarter than all of you.

- Just tell me where she's hiding.

- Why you don't ask it to your rainbow haired Pegasus girlfriend. She does know.

Twilight turned to look at Rainbow Dash with a confusing stare.

- Rainbow, do you know where she is?

- In fact I took some documents about her new residence when I visited her. Possibly, but we have to check the files. How asshole am I. Why didn't I come up with it before? - Rainbow said hitting on her own forehead.

- Then let's not waste time. We must go to see those files.

- I, in your place, would stay to watch your unicorn friend. – Derpy said.

- What is what you wanna say? - Twilight asked confused.

- She is here because of you. - Derpy said referring to Rarity.

- Me? Why me? - Rarity asked confused.

- She is looking for a new bride. She had chosen you. She is minded to do anything to get you in her arms. I beg you to go away from here. Go far away. Save yourself.

The 3 ponies began to understand the motive of why this vampire pony vampire had become Applejack into a creature of the night. Now that Applejack is really dead, the creature is minded to find another filly to be her sex slave and Rarity was the chosen one. The ponies decided it was time to leave now and began to walk away. Derpy saw how her 3 visitor were leaving and she holding the bars of her cell began to give forth a shriek.

- Master! Give me the eternal life you promised me! Don't give it to that unicorn whore!

The 3 ponies had left the institute and in their journey to find the files of the creature's boardinghouse, they stopped in the house where the married couple had recently moved. Rainbow decided that she didn't want to put Rarity into this. She decided that it was better to leave her at home where she could be saved. Both came down from their carriage while Twilight waited in the transporter. Rainbow Dash and Rarity were standing in front of the door.

- Listen, Rarity. I want you stay in the house now and close well the door.

- I don't wanna be alone, Rainbow.

- Don't worry. I'll return soon as possible, ok?

Rainbow gave a kiss to Rarity in her lips and went away on the way to the carriage. She got into her transportation and she let off with Twilight letting Rarity in the house. Rainbow felt a little badly to let her dear Rarity alone, but she knew that at home she would be saved, since nobody knew on the new residence where Rarity and Rainbow had lodged recently. The journey wasn't so far after all. Only it took long 20 minutes in getting to the record where were hid the files of the vampire pony's residence. Rainbow Dash by chance had authorized access to those files, so checking between the possessions that she brought along, brought the entrance's key out. She put the key into the latch and Rainbow opened the door. Both ponies got inside of the place. Twilight using her horn illuminated the place since they didn't want to turn on the lights for fear to be found out. Twilight illuminated the way leading Rainbow to the room of all houses and Ponyville's boardinghouses files. Rainbow opened room's door and both managed to get inside. Twilight looked at her around and noticed that there were too many drawers with letters and thought that finding the correct file would be nothing easy.

- Rainbow, here it seems to be too many files. How are we gonna the one we are looking for?

- Easy, I know exactly which the right drawer is.

Rainbow was flying to the top and looked at drawers while Twilight illuminated the letters for which they were orderly. Rainbow looked pretty well the letters of the drawers and at last she found the one that she was looking for. It was the G drawer.

- Twilight, I found it.

- Hurry up, Rainbow. I don't wanna they found us out.

- I come down now.

Rainbow opened the drawer and began to check all the papers that were. She checked 1 by 1. Rainbow saw attentively each written name in the files and found at last the file with the name "Fluttershy". Rainbow picked the document out from the drawer and closed it. She began to descend from above. When arriving to the ground, Twilight came closer to read the document's content.

- Here is the place. – Rainbow said indicating with her hoof.

- She lives in a treehouse close to the Everfree forest. That explains why Applejack took Applebloom over there.

- We must go there quickly.

The 2 fillies came out of the place. Once leaving everything in its place, they began to take a chance in that dark night to find the place where that pony was found occult. They didn't have to go away from Ponyville. It was a too small place and it wasn't hard get to the treehouse where the vampire pony hid. They went away only for some 10 meter from Ponyville and on the way over they saw a tree in the distance that seemed to have the aspect of a house. They came closer more and more. At the end they stopped and they came down from their carriage. They were in front of a treehouse than no looked nothing out from normal. It seemed a common and current place without indications of something weird.

- So here is where is hiding our vampire pony. - Twilight said.

-It seemed to me that here no one would suspect anything. So, what's the plan?

Twilight returned to the carriage and started to check in her suitcase that she had saved inside. Brought out a full stake packet, crucifixes and holy water and charged everything of that walking back to Rainbow.

- This is what we'll do: We'll get in, we'll find this cunt blood sucker and we'll kill her.

She gave half of her equipment to Rainbow and both ponies prepared to enter. They should have been ready in case of coming across with something unexpected. Once having her equipment ready, they marched forward. Right now being in front of the door, Twilight opened the door with a loud kick and both ponies entered. But they didn't notice that the pony that they chased was outside hung up upside down in a tree and seeing how the intruders entered into her house.

The creature didn't get worried neither in the least knowing that they weren't going to find her inside. But she didn't have doubt that the only pony that knew the localization of that place, had confessed to the intruders where she hid. She broke loose from the tree's branch and spread her wings undertaking a flight toward her destination, because she knew well what she should do now. No one of the ponies that were inside that house knew that creature was going to do now, but soon they would discover it. The vampire pony flew going through the dark night by Ponyville's skies and just carried 20 minutes to get to Equestria's Mental Institute. Derpy Hooves opened her eyes when feeling her master's presence near. She looked up and saw an occult figure in the shades of the room. Derpy knew who it was, because she recognized her voice.

-Derpy..... you had betrayed me. – The voice said.

-No, Master. I had always been faithful to you.

-No..... Is not like that. You should stayed quiet, but this time I gonna get sure that you will remain in silence.

-No, master. Please. I disobeyed you and I recognize it. Punish me, torture me and violate me if you want to! But please, don't kill me! I beg on you! Let me live! - Derpy begged kneeling imploring mercy, while her eyes shed tears.

At that moment it was heard a scream in the dark that came from Derpy's room. The guards ran to investigate what it happened. 1 of them opened the door and on the way in, they turned the light on. The next thing that the guards saw was a dreadful scene that let them open-mouthed. Derpy was nailed in the wall as if someone would have her crucified.

The most horrible was that the head, the wings, arms and legs were pulled out. The legs were nailed from the thighs with stakes. The arms were nailed by the wrists. The wings by the articulations. The rest of the body had a stake in the chest that had penetrated its thorax until the tip went out from the back leaving the body hung on the wall. In as much the decapitated head was nailed by the ears. The guards were shocked when seeing so horrible spectacle and they could look how the blood overflow and dripped from the injuries laying down a blood puddle and red lines marked in the wall. At last the creature managed to make Derpy paid for her treason, now than due to it, Derpy could not obtain the eternal life that her master had promised her. Derpy's silence was a promise that could not come true and for that the only option than her teacher had was to remove her life as a sign of her broken promise. But the vampire pony had not finished her job yet. She still had 1 more thing to do. When got away from the institute, she began to fly through the dark night, since she needed to see the only unicorn that she needed by her side. The vampire pony had not tasted her blood, but yes she could feel her presence and also her heart beats. The first time they were seen was enough for this creature record her in her soul and recognize that unicorn's presence. Finally she found what she looked for and her flight descended. She was close to a house where without a doubt it was where Rainbow had let Rarity inside believing that she would be saved. But she was wrong on it. The creature was now in front of that house's window and could see inside Rarity resting in her warm bed. The creature opened the window and infiltrated inside. Rarity kept on being beautiful even napped. Temptation made that night pony extended her right arm touching softly Rarity's face.

- They can't keep you away from me. I will always be with you. – The night pony said.

-Mmmmmm. Fluttershy, I knew you will return. - Rarity said touching the hoof on her face with a tone of passion.

Rarity opened her eyes slowly and saw once again the face of Fluttershy face to face. She began to caress her cheek and looked at her with a lot of passion. She came closer and began to kiss her in the lips. Fluttershy accepted with pleasure the Kiss and began to kiss Rarity by her neck.

- My love, I'm glad to see you again. I missed you so much. Now we can stay. - Rarity said with passion.

Fluttershy moved away for an instant. She took Rarity's right hoof and laid it on her chest. Rarity then noticed something strange.

- Your heart..... Don't beat. - Rarity said frightened.

- There's no life in this body. I have not soul. I'm empty. - Fluttershy said with a sad tone and turned to look toward the other side.

- But..... who are you actually? - Rarity said frightened and laying her 2 hoofs close by her lips.

- I'm the monster those ponies wish to destroy. I'm a creature of darkness. I'm condemned and cursed by selling my cutie mark in change of glory. I'm a creature that gets feeds from the blood of the innocents. I am.....Flutterbat.

Rarity began to burst into crying and balanced over Flutterbat giving her some soft blows in the back while she talked and cried.

- NO! No.....! YOU KILLED APPLEJACK!..... I LOVE YOU!..... CELESTIA, FORGIVE ME!..... - Had Rarity yelled in middle of her crying and then hugged Flutterbat.

Flutterbat could not deny Rarity's affection and also gave back the hug to her. Both ponies looked to their eyes with passion and Rarity knew that pony was who she wanted to be with instead of marrying Rainbow Dash.

- I wanna be like you. I wanna be by your side and be what you are. See what you see and feel what you feel. - Rarity said with passion looking Flutterbat at her eyes.

- Then I will give you eternal life. You will have to disclaim this life and start a new one by my side as my bride. - Flutterbat said looking at Rarity's eyes.

The 2 girlfriends closed down their pact with a kiss that soon would be transformed into a love affair fraught of passion and lust. The ponies opened their mouths and began to savor their sweet and humid tongues. They licked their lips leaving them humid of saliva and they didn't stop of savoring the saliva of one belonging to the other. Her kiss was too much passionate that of course Rarity wanted to deliver her body to her beautiful lover. Flutterbat slid her tongue by Rarity's neck and provoked that Rarity felt a warm passion that kindled all her nervous system. Flutterbat finished from touching softly Rarity's neck with her tongue and gave her a fortress bit. Rarity felt the sharp fangs of Flutterbat diving in her neck. Rarity didn't resist. She left her lover bites her with pleasure and begins to savor the sweet blood that began to sprout by each pulse of her carotid vein. Rarity gave a wince coming together with a small shout, but she held her lover, while this kept fastened without pulling her mouth away from the neck. Flutterbat didn't want to kill her and moved out of the way once having done what's necessary. Flutterbat dragged along her left hoof by her own chest and a red vertical line appeared suddenly. What it saw was a thick red liquid gushing forth of that line. There was no doubt that was an injury and it was the blood of Flutterbat what sprouted. She looked Rarity at her eyes and next talked.

- Drink, my love. Drink my blood and be mine forever. - Flutterbat said looking Rarity with passion.

Rarity didn't refuse and lowered her head being heading to the injury in Flutterbat's chest. Rarity opened her mouth, closed her eyes, brought out her humid tongue and began to lick the sweet blood that sprouted from Flutterbat's chest. Rarity started to drink her lover's blood with a lot of pleasure and tried to insert her tongue inside of Flutterbat's injury trying from savoring more in depth the sweet nectar. Flutterbat delivered herself to that passion for an instant until when seeing her dear Rarity drinking the blood, something enlighten her mind. Flutterbat began to wonder if this was what Rarity really wanted. Delivering her soul to Flutterbat with the only one price of becoming another creature of the night. Flutterbat began to put a sad face and moved Rarity away from her chest.

- NO.....! I can't allow you to do this! - Flutterbat said looking Rarity with a sad expression.

- C'mon. I wanna be yours. - Rarity said passionate.

- You gonna stay cursed just like me and you'll pass the eternity living in darkness. I love you so much and I don't wish to condemn you. - Flutterbat said imploring for her ladylove's life.

- Then if you love me, don't say that I should stop. I wanna be with you come what may.

Rarity balanced over Flutterbat and kept on drinking the blood that still sprouted. Now Flutterbat could do nothing more to impede it. Both ponies were in love now and the one thing that they desired was being side by side in life and in Death. Flutterbat embraced her ladylove allowing that she kept on drinking that sweet nectar that still sprouted from that injury in Flutterbat's chest. She began to smile knowing that her ladylove Rarity would never go back to leave her.

Rarity had finished and when had moved away, her mouth now was painted red-colored. Rarity began to smile looking at her ladylove with those beautiful and big blue eyes. Flutterbat felt passionate and she came closer to give her a tender kiss in those gory lips. The ponies gave themselves a sweet and impassioned kiss that left the lips of Flutterbat also painted with red blood. The ponies looked deeply to their eyes sinking in one cosmic infinite space of passion that could reflect in the brilliances of their eyes.

Flutterbat's eyes began to turn red and Rarity saw the fangs of his ladylove sticking up from her lips. Blood had made that Flutterbat revealed a part of herself. She no longer wanted to hide her true appearance, so as once Rarity moved away on top, Flutterbat began to develop her original form. Her feathered wings got covered with fur turning into bat wings. Her ears began to grow and to take a sharp-pointed shape. The vampire pony had at last taken her true form.

She took an apple that was lay on the desk and gave it a tender bite nailing smoothly her fangs in the apple, while she was looking at Rarity with a seductive look. Rarity's heart began to beat so fast. It could be noticeable for the way the blood jets sprouted from her injury in the neck. Rarity couldn't help herself before Flutterbat. She was really beautiful and her terrifying aspect now was a dark erotic figure that made Rarity began to feel a sexual excitation that was running through all her spinal column. Rarity felt attracted by Flutterbat sexually and the one thing that she desired was to have her in her arms to kiss her, to caress her and to make love to her as if she would never have made it before. Rarity jumped at her beautiful Flutterbat and began to caress her chest with her humid tongue. Flutterbat started to feel an ecstasy that was lifting little by little. The vampire pony got up and opened her leg showing her intimate parts to Rarity.

- Rarity, do you want me?

- Of course I do.

- Do you want to suck my pussy?

- Yes, I want to.

Rarity supported her lover's legs, lowed her head being heading for her companion's genitalia with the mouth drooling and began to caress her ladylove in the genitalia using her tongue. Flutterbat felt how Rarity tingled her clitoris with her tongue. Flutterbat started to moan from pleasing. Rarity kissed with passion Flutterbat's cunt kissing it tenderly. It was something quite celestial that made Flutterbat fall into a lustful ecstasy. Rarity felt with her tongue the vaginal juice that was going gushing forth and began to suck Futtlerbat's cunt now that she didn't wanna miss a single drop from the sweet nectar. The taste of the vaginal fluids was quite sublime for Rarity. She didn't stop. She just wanted to keep on savoring the delicious nectar.

The blow job delayed just for some 10 minutes and after Rarity leant back. Flutterbat got up and positioned herself on Rarity. She began to kiss her by the neck and to caress it with her tongue. The injury that Rarity had in the neck was being sane by the tender kiss that Flutterbat gave to the injury. Slowly Flutterbat began to explore Rarity's chest and belly with her humid tongue. Rarity felt a tickling sensation that went going through all her body making her fall into a deep feeling of passion and lust. She felt that all her skin was bristling and Flutterbat went down slowly with her tongue until get to her ladylove's genitalia. Flutterbat began to lick Rarity's vagina with passion.

Rarity started to deliver herself to pleasure allowing that her ladylove savored her exquisite pussy. It was a tender humid kiss in the genitalia without forgetting that Flutterbat began to tingle her clitoris. She played with her using her tongue. The tickling sensation went going over Rarity's body, for all her body, making that she moaned from pleasing and her heart beat so loud of what's normal. The vaginal fluids began to sprout from her inside and Flutterbat started to savor it with all pleasure. Rarity began to caress her own chest with passion when feeling all that tickling sensation that traveled through all her body making her going crazy. Flutterbat enjoyed with pleasure the juicy cunt of her ladylove and left those delicious fluids slip from her tongue to get the throat. Flutterbat went away for a moment and cleaned her lips with her tongue.

- Why did you stop? - Rarity asked confused.

- Turn around and get on knees. – Flutterbat said.

It was clear that Flutterbat wanted Rarity to change position. Rarity obeyed with pleasure and positioned herself face down. She got up putting herself in 4. Flutterbat came closer and separated Rarity's buttocks. She could contemplate Rarity's pussy still wet and the anus. The aroma was so attractive to Flutterbat and could not support the desires of keeping on savoring it. She opened her mouth and approaching, continued licking Rarity's genitalia tasting more of that delicious nectar.

Flutterbat kept on enjoying those delicious vaginal lips really irresistible. Rarity felt one more time that lustful pleasure that kept on invading her body. Her groan started to rise more in volume and that provoked she stick out her tongue towards the outside drooling of pleasure, since she could not hold her breath that she had save inside of your lungs. Flutterbat didn't want to stop almost and pushed her tongue to the inside of Rarity's cunt trying to savor her inside. Inside the deep of Rarity's vagina was all wet and hot that Flutterbat could feel it with her tongue. Besides also she could feel that the inner heat made the uterus got dirty with smoke and vapor. Every time that Flutterbat stuck out her tongue to outside of Rarity's vagina, she could feel the inner vapor going out and sneaking inside her mouth. Flutterbat began to contemplate Rarity's vagina when seeing how it opened and it closed as if it were breathing. Flutterbat then opened her mouth one more time, but this time began to suck Rarity's anal orifice. While Flutterbat began to caress the Rarity's cunt with his left hoof, she began to lick Rarity's asshole trying to get it wet. She humidified it enough to push her tongue inside the orifice and be able to introduce it inside Rarity's asshole. Rarity could feel how Flutterbat was penetrating her in the anus with her tongue. Flutterbat with the greatest pleasure and pleasing penetrated Rarity's asshole with her humid tongue leaving it drooled. Flutterbat separated Rarity's buttocks and she saw well how the anus opened becoming in a hollow orifice. Flutterbat spat in that hole. Joined a saliva ball to inside her mouth and next dropped it falling inside of Rarity's anus. Flutterbat kept on licking Rarity's asshole when letting it drooled whole. Rarity couldn't stop to moan from pleasing and it was a celestial experience that she didn't want to abandon. Rarity felt the humid Flutterbat's dribble taken inside her asshole and began to push to expel it. Flutterbat beheld how the anus of Rarity opened and the saliva that was in its inside began to sprout out as if Rarity was defecating. Flutterbat felt delighted and placed her mouth back in Rarity's asshole receiving her saliva again. The saliva inside Rarity's asshole at last began to go out. Rarity had a few liters of saliva inside her asshole and began to shit them inside Flutterbat's mouth. She enjoyed it with being pleased. Flutterbat felt the pleasure of her own saliva again, but this time the saliva was warm and Flutterbat could feel the taste of Rarity's asshole inside of her mouth that next it sneaked inside of her throat after Flutterbat decided to swallow it. Flutterbat felt a great pleasure to the knowledge that the taste of the inside of Rarity's asshole and enclosure a part of it, were now inside her stomach. Rarity fell on the bed laid down again and the body positioned itself up to see her ladylove's face one more time. Flutterbat positioned herself on Rarity and began to rub her genitalia on Rarity's waist.

The beautiful unicorn felt the wet cunt of Flutterbat in her waist and gave her desires that Flutterbat penetrated her somehow. Friction only took some 3 minutes and Flutterbat took the left leg of Rarity placing it straight ahead. Both ponies already were in position and began to have a cunt fuck. Both fillies' genitalia were having contact now. Rarity and Flutterbat delivered themselves to pleasure allowing that their pussies speak for them. Their vaginal lips snipped giving themselves some kind of wet kiss leaving these ponies fall in a heavenly dream of pleasing and lust which they didn't want to wake up. They moaned from pleasing letting themselves get carried away by ecstasy. Their clitorises were ticking 1 to the other like if both pussies were giving themselves a kiss of tongue. Their genitalia were quite wet and these 2 mares no longer could contain themselves anymore. They increased the friction of their cunts with the whole possible velocity and at last they got through the climax. They gave a fortress shout that penetrated the evening darkness and the 2 fillies felt exhausted in bed. They were very agitated for their erotic activity and they remained lying-down in bed trying from recovering oxygen. After 1 sabbatical minute, the ponies got up to look at their eyes. They looked at themselves deeply with passion knowing that now they belonged each other. Flutterbat touched Rarity's face softly with her right hoof and she came closer to give her a sweet kiss. The 2 fillies already were together at last and closed their pact with a tender kiss. All of a sudden it felt the room's door opening of a blow. Rarity when hearing the blow, she turned her head to see what it was. She saw that they were Rainbow and Twilight that had returned soon as possible when discovering that the treehouse was empty without Flutterbat's signs. The strangest thing was that at that moment, Rarity noticed that Flutterbat no longer was by her side in bed.

- Rarity, what is going on here? - Rainbow asked confused.

Of soon from the roof descended a horrible face monstrously deformed. The creature that appeared suddenly was Flutterbat that had changed her form again. This time her face was full of bloody injuries that covered approximately all her full face.

Her hair had an exotic mixture of rose and red. Besides she had a great wound in her cheeks that had the appearance of an enormous really terrifying smile. Her face had a really macabre aspect with a long tongue that was going out zigzagging from her mouth. Twilight took out a crucifix that she carried along. She extended it to Flutterbat saying some prayers.

- Seriously you think you can destroy me with your idols? - Flutterbat said with a monstrous voice.

- You have no way out. We know about you lair. Your fight against Celestia is over. - Twilight said bravely to Flutterbat.

- I was at Celestia's service much time before you were born.

- Yes, that's right and then you killed many innocent ponies.

- Because I was betrayed. Look what your Princess Celestia had done with me.

Rainbow ran toward Rarity and extended her arms. Rarity received Rainbow with a hug.

- Rarity. Are you okay? - Rainbow asked while hugging Rarity.

- You come too late. She's now my bride. - Flutterbat interrupted with a macabre laugh.

Rainbow took out a weapon that she brought along both for what she listened. Rarity was her wife and didn't want Flutterbat to take her off from her. Rarity tried to stop Rainbow holding her hoof that was supporting the weapon. Rainbow pulled the trigger and the shot hit tightly on Flutterbat's chest. That made that she began to feel annoying and her eyes turned black and hollow. Her teeth became sharp. In her right eye, the veins began to happen towards the outside. From Her front and left ear also happened the veins from her interior as if were roots. Some enormous pair of tongs appeared from Flutterbat's hoofs and 2 more happened of her back. Flutterbat's chest began to open and happened from her inside some macabre tongs as if they were bug paws. Her jaw broke in half giving to Flutterbat a monstrous shape. Flutterbat had changed her form again turning into a dreadful creature. Twilight took out a stake and ran towards Flutterbat. Once Twilight was near, Flutterbat hit her with her right pair of tongs. The blow pushed Twilight making her colliding against the wall. Rainbow Dash continued shooting to Flutterbat. Rarity didn't want to see. She cuddled in the bed covering her eyes with desires of not seeing. Flutterbat walked fast to Rainbow. The bullets could not stop her. With her right tong, snatched the pistol away from Rainbow with one blow. Using her pair of tongs located in the back, pushed Rainbow against the wall. The 2 tongs got pricked in Rainbow's wrists. There was no blood since Flutterbat just wanted to get her motionless against the wall.

- You can't stop me. She is mine now. - Flutterbat said looking at Rainbow's face while she was holding her cheek with her other 2 tongs in the hoofs.

Flutterbat opened her enormous mouth and looked like her cut jaw was getting opening as it were an insect's mouth. Flutterbat was ready to bite Rainbow. Twilight had fortunately stood up and rushed at Flutterbat driving the stake through her back. Flutterbat moved away giving fierce beast's roars and with her left tong, hit Twilight getting her away on top. Flutterbat went away and ran to the window. She threw herself out of the window and when being out, she opened her wings before touching the ground and flew off. Rainbow and Twilight got close to the window and saw their enemy flying far away until she disappeared in the dark.

Chapter 15

The day had come and the 3 ponies stayed together after the terrible event from last night. Rarity was laid in bed since it could see that her health wasn't in good condition. Rainbow Dash didn't get separate from Rarity for one single instant.

- I think we had discover 1 thing. Flutterbat fears us and her time is running out. Is there something that she has comment you? – Twilight asked directing to Rarity.

- She loves me. She took me in her arms. Now I'm hers. I know it because I hear her voice inside of my head. – Rarity replied.

- If she is calling you, that means may you can lead us to her.

- Pannier better that you do it, Rarity. I don't want she take you away from my side. - Rainbow Dash said.

- Ohh, Rainbow. How could I do this to you? - Rarity said sorrowful.

- Don't worry, dear. We'll keep out of this. Just tell us where she's heading to. – Twilight said.

- I listen to the moving sound of a carriage and in the background sounds of animals and wild beasts.

- It's the Everfree forest. Certainly she wants to return again to her castle. We can't allow she do it. – Twilight said.

- And what we do then? - Rainbow asked looking at Twilight.

- We'll go to the forest. Rainbow, you will have to fly skywards and if you see a carriage, inform us and try to stop it. I will take care of Rarity and we will be in the forest waiting.

- Are you sure you want Rarity to come?

- Now that she was bitten, we can't stay away from her and leave her alone neither. This is our only chance to save her.

Rainbow Dash didn't have another option if she wanted to save her loved one. The 3 fillies had to pack all that is necessary and they infiltrated to the Everfree forest's entrails. According to Twilight's plan, Rainbow had taken a separated road in search of the carriage that for sure transported Flutterbat. Rarity stayed under Twilight Sparkle's care and both unicorns walked on foot through the forest. It skipped 4 hours from their search by the forest. Soon it was going to get dark. The 2 unicorns stopped in a space to be able to camp. Twilight went after fire woods for a bonfire, while Rarity prepared the whole equipment of camping that Twilight had brought in her baggage. Twilight had returned with a lot of wood in her hoofs and to return, the campsite already was ready. Rarity had done a fine job. Twilight placed the whole firewood in the midway of the campsite and using her horn, gave an enchantment that kindled a flame in the woodpile. Already it was by night and in the dark the wolves' howl could be listened. The night was quiet and murky at the same time. The 2 mares started to cook marshmallows at branches on the bonfire. Twilight started to look Rarity worried because she hasn't said one single one word ever since they went out of Ponyville. Rarity's safety was at stake now and Twilight shouldn't have become less attentive.

- Rarity, everything is in order?
- Yes, nothing happens.
- Sure? You didn't say anything in all day. You are so quite.
- Its nothing alarming. I think I will better go to sleep.

Rarity put the marshmallow in her mouth and while she chewed it, stood up and walked to her camper. Twilight saw how Rarity was going away and she was getting inside her refuge. She couldn't stop thinking that something bad would come to happen to her and it was too worrisome. Twilight drove her looked toward the bonfire for fear her marshmallow burns.

Rarity had fallen into a deep sleep and was shelter trouble-free in her sleeping bag. She still hated listen to Flutterbat's voice in her head calling her name. Rarity could not resist that desire. In the dream Rarity was in a dark fog in middle of the darkness. Voice called her and Rarity had marched toward the deep in search of that voice. She crossed the dark murky fog until at the distance she saw a black winged figure. Rarity knew who it was. She ran to her. When arriving, there was Flutterbat waiting for her.

- I told noting would go to separate us now. – Flutterbat said. – Now I'm here.
- I want you take me again.

Flutterbat turned showing to Rarity her back side. Rarity could see her ladylove's genitalia and her desire was savoring it with her tongue just like last night when being together.

- What are you waiting for? Suck it to me. - Flutterbat said when showing her intimate parts to seduce Rarity newly.

The anus's orifice and the vagina were an exquisite mouthful that Rarity refused to reject. She came closer and felt a sweet aroma that made her to attract still more. Rarity began to stick out her tongue and right now being near, licked and sucked the cunt of her loved Flutterbat. She placed her hoof about her ladylove's buttocks to enjoy the sweet taste. Rarity also drove her tongue to Flutterbat's anus trying from licking and sucking both orifices at the same time. The dream was so lustful that provoked Rarity to begin to drool even being asleep. Rarity could not resist that erotic dream and began to grow to her fangs in her denture. Her ears also started to change taking sharp-pointed shape. Rarity had begun to moan for her erotic dream and wasn't hard for Twilight could listen to her. She turned her look toward the camper where Rarity was sleeping. She worried about that groan she heard that she began to wonder if something bad was happening to her.

- Rarity, you are awake? - Twilight asked toward the camper to Rarity listen.

It wasn't heard any reply. Twilight put her marshmallow in her mouth and left the branch in the ground. Twilight ate her marshmallow fast to after be prepare. Twilight stood up and walked to the camper. But in there she saw a black shadow rising up and that provked Twilight freeze. She didn't move and saw the black shadow walking out side. From inside the camper Rarity went out, but she was now looking different. Now she had sharp-pointed ears, enormous wings in her back and some brilliant blood-red eyes. Her cutie mark that had the shape of diamonds had taken bat shapes. Her fur white as snow now had become sullen. A white almost tone gray color. Also it could be seen the fangs coming out from her lips. Twilight didn't move for anything. Rarity walked toward her.

- I know why you decided to take the responsibility of take care of me, Twilight. – Rarity said.

- Really? - Twilight asked being still freeze.

- Yes, I know you want me. You wanna have me in your arms. You wanna fuck me. Don't you, Twilight? Well here you've got me. Now come and take me. – Rarity said with a seductive voice.

Rarity walked toward Twilight extending her arms. Twilight received her with pleasure and began to kiss her with passion. The 2 unicorns started to give themselves a sweet kiss that no pony would be able to resist. Twilight began to kiss Rarity on the neck making Rarity felt an erotic ecstasy. Twilight with all pleasure started to lead her humid tongue along Rarity's neck to go down to her chest. Both fell down in the ground and Rarity let that Twilight kissed her and licked her with passion. Twilight led her humid tongue along Rarity's chest and it descended toward her belly. Rarity was starting to moan from pleasing. Twilight's humid tongue kept on exploring Rarity's sweet skin and moved down to get her intimate parts. Twilight with pleasure started to touch softly Rarity's clitoris with her tongue. Rarity felt that tickle crossing her spinal column and going over her body. Rarity placed her hoofs on Twilight's head in order that she didn't move out of the way and to make her understand that she wanted to be still explored by Twilight's mouth. The unicorn with pleasure didn't move away and gave a tender kiss in Rarity's vaginal lips followed of one caress by part of her tongue. Twilight pushed her tongue putting it into the provinces of Rarity's pussy. The corporal fluids started to sprout and Twilight with pleasure drank the sweet nectar from Rarity's genitalia. Taste was a true delight and Rarity enjoyed the pleasure of being penetrated by Twilight's tongue with pleasure. Rarity could not help herself for much she tried and right after some 5 minutes, Rarity ejaculated in Twilight's mouth. The unicorn drank and swallowed the delicious vaginal juice that went out in jets from Rarity's cunt. Twilight kept on sucking and licking trying from taking the whole juice from Rarity. When finishing, she lead her tongue along Rarity's belly again to her chest. From her chest to her neck and from her neck to her mouth. The 2 unicorns finished their passion with 1 more kiss and Rarity noticed something suspicious when seeing that Twilight could not stop kissing her in the neck.

- You want to kill. You will drive a stake through my heart and decapitate me like you did with the poor Applejack. You damned son of a bitch! - Rarity said upset.

Rarity supported Twilight's head and came closer trying to bite her in the neck. Twilight moved away quickly before she bit her.

- No! I swear for Celestia to protect you!

Twilight brought out fast a crucifix and rushed at Rarity placing it to her in the forehead. Rarity gave a beast's roar and felt unconscious in the ground with a scar in her front that had the cross's shape. At that moment Twilight heard some sounds that came from darkness. Twilight looked to the shadows and from there she saw 3 ponies that without hesitation were those ponies that had Rainbow prisoner at the castle. The same ponies that without doubt were Flutterbat's sex slaves. They appeared with fierce stares and brilliant eyes that were burning as hell flames. Twilight took a piece of firewood from the bonfire and using it like torch, drawn a circle around her along with Rarity. Both ponies now were inside the circle of fire and Twilight kept on supporting her torch to drive away those diabolical creatures.

- This land is protected! I will protect this innocent from you! Nightmare's whores! This place is blessed! Keep out of here! In the name of Celestia!

The 3 vampire ponies could not fight against Twilight being out of danger inside that circle of fire. They didn't have another option that moves back disappearing in the dark and from afar it could see their infernal red eyes still shining in the dark. Twilight didn't stay there doing nothing. She decided to go after those ponies. She came out from the circle of fire and marched to the deep of darkness chasing those creatures. Supporting her torch to protect herself and to illuminate the path, Twilight marched after these malignant creatures. The path led her to a grave. Twilight marched toward the grave believing that maybe those ponies were there occult. Twilight by chance brought her ax along in case of have to fight. When being in front of the entrance, Twilight extended her right arm and opened the grave's door. Inside she saw the 3 ponies leant on 3 coffins. They were sleeping owed to the time of dawn was coming closer. Twilight got close to the pony that she had closer. When being in front of her, Twilight raised her ax very high and gave a loud blow in that pony's neck separating her head from the body. Twilight brought near to the 2nd pony and rose her ax very up above and also gave her a loud blow in the neck that cut her head completely. Twilight marched toward the third and last pony and repeated the same process decapitating her with her ax. Twilight picked up the decapitated heads of her victims and came out of the grave supporting the heads in her right hoof, while with the left hoof she was supporting the ax. The sun was going out already and darkness was decreasing. Twilight marched to get to a ravine and threw the head to the vacuum. The 3 beheaded heads fell into the deep of the vacuum and Twilight raising her looks up skywards, shout with rage Flutterbat's name knowing that the battle hadn't finished yet.

- FLUTTERBAT! FLUTTERBAT.....!

Chapter 16

The day was coming and Rainbow Dash had awaked from her dream because she could not remain awake the whole night. She was resting on a cloud and rubbed her eyes in order to get rid of the dream. When recovering vision, Rainbow saw down carriage being drag by a pony. In the carriage could see that it transported a coffin. Rainbow got to thinking that Flutterbat was resting in that drawer. Rainbow flew to the sky trying from seeing Twilight and Rarity on any part of the forest. She could see them below between the trees and she began to beckon. Fortunately the 2 unicorns could see Rainbow from on high. Rarity had recovered her previous figure and approximately could not remember the event of last night. Twilight brought her binoculars out of her baggage and could see the carriage carrying a coffin which Flutterbat could be in its inside. Twilight fixed her look toward the direction in which the carriage directed and she was the ancient castle of Princesses Celestia and Luna.

- This is worse of what I thought. – Twilight said.

- What are you talking about? – Rarity asked.

- The sun is rising and she needs a place to hide. If she doesn't arrive quickly to some place to hide, it will be too late. Celestia help us.

Rarity realized that if Flutterbat didn't get to that castle before the sun went out, and then will die because of the daylight. Rarity decided to run direct toward the place where the carriage to save her loved one. Twilight followed her back to stop her. Rainbow Dash flew at full speed to the carriage having seen the 2 unicorns headed to the castle. They should have stopped the carriage before reach that ancient place to take shelter of the sun. The pony that was dragging along the carriage noticed that Rainbow was back chasing him and he decided to hasten his step. He ran with all velocity trying to get to the castle fast as he could. Time was running out. Rarity ran with all speed and Twilight wanted to stop her somehow. She decided to give a spell from her horn throwing a ray that made Rarity get tripped and fell to the ground. Twilight at last could get her and keeping on ahead of her. Rarity stood up one more time and kept on running behind Twilight. It was a race to see who the first one in arriving was. The pony of the carriage flowed faster than he could until get to the entrance of the abandoned castle. He stopped and getting down of the carriage, ran to the entrance trying to close it. He moved the lever and the bars began to descend. But Rainbow flying at full speed managed to get in. Twilight had also arrived and when seeing that bars were closing the entrance, she hastened her steps and threw herself jumping to the entrance. She also managed to enter. When Rarity arrived, the entrance was closed already. She decided to go to the surroundings trying to find any crack where she could enter. The pony of the carriage had a shovel on his hoofs and raised it to hit Rainbow Dash. She dodged the blow and the shovel hit the ground. Rainbow took out the weapon that she still brought and tightly when the pony raised the shovel again, Rainbow pulled the trigger shooting that pony right in the head. The pony released the shovel leaving it falling in the ground and next he fell to the ground. Rarity got to find an entrance at the side of the entrance's wall. It was a great slot and Rarity got inside. She managed to get in and ran to try to save Flutterbat. The 2 fillies were about the coffin and tried to open it using keys. Both hit with fortress to break the coffin, but the top opened violently and Flutterbat got out from its inside ascending to the sky. Flutterbat saw the 2 ponies down and descended to attack.

Flutterbat descended fast from the sky with a fierce stare. She rushed at Twilight ready to bite her. But once lying on her, Twilight brought out a knife that she had and laid it on Flutterbat's throat. Rapidly she cut Flutterbat's throat and blood came out of unexpected way staining

Twilight's face. Flutterbat moved away and covered her injury with her hoofs trying to stop the bleeding. Flutterbat started to vomit blood by her mouth and Rainbow ran to her taking a stake. She drove the stake through Flutterbat's chest and Rarity was present when it happened. Now it was too late and Rarity ran to her. Rainbow had thrown the weapon when she fell to the ground. So Rarity took it and aimed Rainbow trying to protect Flutterbat. Rainbow stood still without moving.

- When I have become, you will kill me. That's right? - Rarity said to Rainbow while she aiming her.

- No, of course no. – Rainbow replied.

Flutterbat crawled by the ground leaving a trail of blood. Flutterbat was drowning with her own blood and Rarity ran towards her to help her to get up. Rarity helped Flutterbat to stand on foot and walked together to the castle's enormous door. Twilight supporting her ax was going straight to them. But Rainbow took her by her right arm and stopped her.

- No, Twilight. Our mission is over. Now is turn of her. - Rainbow said to Twilight.

Twilight had turned to see Rainbow. After she turned her look to Flutterbat and Rarity. They opened the great gate and went together into the inside. Twilight got pensive and it results that she was right. Flutterbat was dying and that meant that at last her job had finished.

- You are right, Rainbow. We had finished our job here already. Now we are just crazy followers of Celestia. - Twilight looking at the ground.

Both ponies remained looking at the castle and turned. It was already done and now they taking your tools, walked toward the entrance to abandon that place.

Chapter 17

Flutterbat was laid in the ground drowning with her own blood. Her time was already arriving to an end and she tried to talk with the lack of strength that was left.

- Where is Celestia? Does she have forgotten about me? It's all over. - Flutterbat said weakly.

- No, my love. I love you. - Rarity said while her eyes shed tears.

Flutterbat felt something in her inside when heard those words. She felt a light in her inside even in her deathbed. When looked up, the sun had already gone out and a light came through the window illuminating her.

In the beginning Flutterbat felt that her skin was burning, but next felt something warm in her inside when the light touched her. For a long time, Flutterbat spent her life suffering in the darkness secluded from society. But now she felt that her soul was lighting up. Rarity could feel the same thing and then both fillies could understand what was happening at that moment. They discovered that Rarity's love was the only thing that could save Flutterbat from the power of darkness. That is because Rarity kept on loving Flutterbat in spite of being a monster that just wanted to leave her life in the past. Rarity would be who would put end to this due to her generosity. Friendship and love are just one power and that power is more powerful than Death. After going by a long time in light, Flutterbat recovered her original form. This time his bat wings got covered with feathers, her red eyes became blue, her fangs disappeared, her sharp-pointed ears had taken the figure of an ordinary pony ears and the bat's cutie marks that she had in her sides, took figures of butterflies. Flutterbat went back to be the Pegasus that she was in her last life. The curse that tormented her at last had disappeared. Rarity took Flutterbat in her arms and got her inside the deep of the castle carrying her as she were a baby. They went up the stairs and they turned left. There were a lot of doors through that corridor and Rarity opened with one kick the door the number 23. In the inside of the room, there were a comfortable bed and Flutterbat's photos living together with little animals. Also a lot of flowerpots. Without a doubt that was the room where Flutterbat used to live. But in that one instance everyone knew her as Fluttershy. Because in those times she a very shy pony, but she was very kind which she was loved by everybody. The present-day event would be considered like a too tragic ending for a pony that began her life as a tender and affectionate creature that next ended up living like a bloodthirsty monster. Rarity walked to the bed, removed the savannah with her right hoof and laid Fluttershy on the bed. Rarity wrapped her up with the bedspread covering her from the cold. Fluttershy still kept on bleeding to death and dying. Still it was hurting to her and Rarity could not handle to see her that way. Rarity kept on crying feeling a great grief for that Pegasus.

- Please, I wanna rest in peace. - Fluttershy said holding Rarity's hoof.

Rarity realized that what Fluttershy wanted was die quickly to stop of suffering. Rarity wanted to finish with her suffering tot her soul at last be freed. Rarity could not deny her that desire and settled with the head. She laid her hoofs on the stake nailed in Fluttershy's chest and buried it very deep until the tip went out through her back. Fluttershy looked Rarity for last time, next looked up. Fluttershy smiled and gave a last sigh. Rarity saw that Fluttershy no longer was moving and it was clear that she had gone at last. Fluttershy's soul now was free. Rarity got close to her and gave her last kiss in the lips. Rarity just looked at her for some minutes and already it seemed to her too much to see her only love dead. Rarity looked down and in the floor there was an enormous knife. The same that Fluttershy had used to kill her bunny Angel the first time that Fluttershy had become in vampire. The knife was a piece of the start of everything. Rarity took that knife and she knew the next thing she should do. She raised the knife up above and with all her might hit Fluttershy's neck with the cutting edge cutting her head completely. Rarity looked up and in the roof she saw something that was hard to believe. It was a picture where she and Fluttershy were together on pillows and Fluttershy was between Rarity's arms. The unicorn got surprised for that picture that was very ancient and seemed that the image would have been a portent of the terrible events happened lately and that besides it would have been already known at that time they were going to be together. It was clear that Fluttershy hadn't traveled to Ponyville for her desires of blood only. She wanted her darling back because Rarity was going to be her only savior. It seemed too hard to believe. It was too hard to Rarity believe it after spent a long time looking the picture. She felt that something woke up inside her. Rarity didn't want to live without Fluttershy and felt than without her, her life no longer would make sense. Rarity kneeled down even supporting the knife in her left hoof. She raised the knife and supported it firmly with both hoofs. Rarity didn't move the look away from the picture in the roof. Now she knew that Fluttershy was her only love and never should have separated from her.

- Fluttershy....., my heart will be always yours. - Rarity said looking at the picture and with her eyes still weeping.

She supported the knife with firmness and with all her might, she drove the tip of the knife in her own chest going through her heart.
